Space Rescue Problems Get Scientists' Eye

Mercy Mission Units May Be Put Up as Auxiliary Satellites

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Your space ship is off course and out of control.

In 16 hours, it will collide with an automatic weather station satellite circling the earth. Your own steering rockets won't work. But you know you are on a collision course.

What to do?

You are about ready to take off after a visit to the moon. But you haven't enough fuel.

Or an unlucky hit by a meteor has ripped away part of your space ship. Most of your food supply was lost. What to do?

Space rescue ships are the answer, responding to your SOS. Or racing out on their own when they detect that something must be wrong.

Space scientists already are considering how to set up mercy mission satellites and ships. And how to solve intricate problems of making a rendezvous in space.

Rescue satellites circling close to the earth could be one solution, says Norman V. Peterson of Lockheed Aircraft Corp., Sunnyvale, Calif.

They could be big enough to send out emergency space repair trucks or mercy ambulances.

Or they could be designed so they could slow up or speed up, or swoosh up to a higher orbit to intercept and rescue people on a satellite or space ship in distress.

Petersen described the problem and proposed solutions today to a space symposium sponsored by the Air Force School of Aviation Medicine and arranged by Southwest Research Institute.

Space rescues would be far from simple.

A rescue satellite headquarters would need excellent methods of communications to hear an SOS or detect trouble, and mathematical computers to figure how to maneuver to the scene to overtake or reach a space vehicle in trouble.

Other rescue satellites might circle far above the earth to aid interplanetary travelers, Petersen said.

Some rescue ships might be controlled or launched from the ground.

Petersen also proposed a kind of satellite service station to do repair or retrieve damaged space stations, such as automatic weather watchers or astronomical observatories.

Accidents will undoubtedly occur in all phases of space operations, said Col. Paul Campbell of the School of Aviation Medicine.

In the vast sea of space, rescue operations will be harder than they were in the isolated continent of Antarctica before airplanes were flying in there with lots of other necessary support, he said.

Navigating rescue missions in space will call for almost a new science in itself, he added. Also tough is the problem of transferring people from a disabled ship to another in the vacuum of space.

Burglars Hit Two Stations

Circleville Police today were investigating attempted burglaries at two southward service stations last night.

Officers said attempts were made at the Arledge Station, S. Court St. and the Truex Station, a short distance south on Court St. No entries were made, they added.

Sgt. Robert Temple and Patrolman William Goff said a window was broken at the Arledge Station. Sgt. Turney Ross and Patrolman William Brungs said a door glass was broken at the Truex Station.

31 Bulgarians Hanged

VIENNA (AP)—Bulgarian courts have passed 31 death sentences in the last two years on Communist party and government officials who stole or embezzled state funds, according to the Warsaw newspaper Trybuna Ludu.

Six Directors Reelected For Chamber of Commerce

Six directors of the Circleville Chamber of Commerce were reelected recently and eight new directors were named in a poll conducted by the organization.

A joint meeting of the old and new directors will be held at noon December 2 in Benny's Restaurant. At this meeting the new directors will elect a president and officers plus hiring the secretary-treasurer, a salaried position.

Reelected were Frank Barnhill, Barnhill Dry Cleaning and Laundry; Ben Gordon, city mayor and owner of Gordon Tire and Accessory Co.;

Ned Harden, Harden Chevrolet Co.; Charles Schieber, Bingham Drug Co.; Larry Varble, Ralston Purina Co., and Bonner Ezell, Pickaway Motors Inc.

NEWLY ELECTED directors were George Young, Simkins and Young; Durward Dowden, Second

National Bank; Eldridge Parsons, The Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Co.;

Jack Clifton, Clifton Motor Sales Inc.; Robert Call, Circleville Oil Co.; Larry Goeller Jr., Kippy Kit Co.; George Helwagen, Fitzpatrick's Printery; and Dale Ankrom, Ankrom Lumber Co.

Retiring president is C. K. Vaughan. William D. Clifton will remain on the board of directors as president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce until its elections in July.

Retiring directors are J. C. Van Pelt, Circleville Savings and Banking Co.; Judge William Ammer, Pickaway County Common Pleas Court; Robert Brehmer Jr., Brechmer Greenhouses; James Carr, General Electric; George Fuhrman, J. C. Penney Co.; Richard Pettit, Pettit's Appliance Store; David E. McDonald, Mac's Tire and Appliance, and Leonard Wilson, Kochheiser Hardware Co.

East Germany, Russia Plan Talks on Red Troop Pullout

BERLIN (AP)—Russia and Communist East Germany plan shortly to negotiate the withdrawal of Soviet troops from East Germany, Communist Premier Otto Grotewohl indicated today.

Grotewohl told a news conference that, by this step, the Communist powers hope to force the United States, Britain and France to withdraw their troops from Western Germany and Berlin.

Grotewohl's announcement gave a clue to how the Kremlin expects to implement Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's announced determination to force the Western allied powers to evacuate pivotal Khrushchev demanded in Moscow on Monday that the four-power occupation of Berlin be brought to an end. He hinted that the Soviet Union would end its treaty obligations to insure Western access to the isolated city, 110 miles inside East Germany.

Diplomatic missions in Moscow reported today that the East German mission was circulating an 18-page document charging West Germany with aggressive acts. The printed document appeared Monday, indicating coordination between the Kremlin and East Berlin on a drive to oust the Western allies.

The United States, Britain and France have indicated they intend to stand fast in Germany, protecting West Berlin by military force if necessary. Both Washington and London contend that the Soviet Union cannot, by itself, scrap the agreements reached after World War II for occupation of Germany.

Grotewohl called for the signing of a World War II peace treaty with Germany. Agreement among the Big Four on terms of a treaty has been blocked by the cold war which split Germany into two camps.

All the indications here were that Russia and East Germany were about to launch a big diplomatic offensive to force the Western powers to acknowledge the existence of the Communist East German government which the West refuses to recognize on the ground that it is a Communist puppet without popular basis.

It was too early to tell whether this offensive would be accompanied by a nerve war against isolated Berlin.

"I am of the opinion that negotiations will take place shortly between the government of the German Democratic Republic and the Soviet government over the withdrawal of Soviet troops from Germany," Grotewohl said.

"By this means we will encourage the Western powers to follow suit. I believe we will find enough people in both parts of Germany who will fight for that. Thereby we will come one step closer to a peace treaty."

There are an estimated 400,000 Soviet soldiers in the Soviet zone of Germany and about 300,000 U.S., British and French soldiers in Western Germany.

Grotewohl did not elaborate under what conditions the Soviet Union might agree with Communist East Germany to pull out its troops.

In the past the Russians have made Allied withdrawal from West Germany the condition for the pull-out of their own troops.

The Western powers have refused to pull out their forces unless an agreement could be reached on the reunification of Germany through free elections.

Russia Says U.S. Planning Military Bases on Moon

Soviet Again Calls For Summit Talks

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union sought today to discuss disarmament with the West at a summit meeting, at the Geneva talks on surprise attack and at the United Nations.

The Western powers have on previous occasions opposed the form of talks proposed by Moscow as more likely to produce propaganda than progress.

The Kremlin renewed its offer, again, on-again summit conference proposals in a joint communique ending talks between Premier Khrushchev and Polish Communist boss Wladyslaw Gomulka. The communique was signed Monday and published Tuesday after Gomulka left for Warsaw.

It said a meeting at the summit should "examine and solve the most pressing problems of disarmament."

The Soviet Foreign Ministry handed a note to the U.S. Embassy here asking that the Geneva talks be "coupled with definite steps in disarmament," Moscow radio reported.

"Without these steps it is useless to consider the question of preventing a surprise attack," the note said.

When the 10-nation technical talks on problems of preventing surprise attacks opened Monday in the Swiss city, Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vassili Kuznetsov demanded disarmament without going into controls or guarantees.

William C. Foster, U.S. delegation leader, rejected discussion of disarmament as outside the field of the talks, which are designed to lay the technical groundwork for future political decisions. Disarmament is a hotly political issue in world relations.

On a third front, the Soviet Union tried to introduce an aspect of disarmament into a U.N. debate in New York on peaceful use of outer space. A Russian resolution called for both a ban on using space for military purposes and elimination of foreign military bases.

The Western position has been that advance preparations indicating good results must precede any summit meeting. Khrushchev broke off ambassadorial talks in Moscow last spring on a summit meeting.

Both at Geneva and in the U.N. the West contends that disarmament is not part of the business at hand and its injection only complicates discussions without offering progress toward guarantees of balanced, effective disarmament.

Army Honors 'Deserter' For Valor

SAN DIEGO, Tex. (AP)—Forty years ago Gabriel Garcia ran out into no man's land in France to save a wounded comrade. Tuesday the Army, which had carried him as a deserter since 1919, honored him for his courage.

Garcia, 68, a farm laborer who speaks only Spanish, was the honor guest at San Antonio's Veterans Day celebration. A military plane flew him to San Antonio and back to his home here. A general pinned medals on his chest and spoke of his valor. He sat on a reviewing stand with the brass and watched troops march by.

When it was over, Garcia said through an interpreter: "What else is there to say but to thank my country and my government from the bottom of my heart?"

Garcia was wounded by heavy enemy fire near St. Juvin, France, Oct. 16, 1918, while rescuing a comrade. He was hospitalized at Ft. Sam Houston, San Antonio, from July to September, 1919, then told he could leave. Someone gave him some papers and Garcia assumed he was discharged. Later he lost the papers.

Last March he asked medical treatment at the Veterans Administration office here. There he learned he was carried as a deserter.

His record was straightened out and Tuesday Lt. Gen. G. S. Meloy Jr., 4th Army commander, pinned on Garcia's chest the Distinguished Service Cross, the Purple Heart and the World War I Victory Medal with three battle clusters.

Auto, Truck Collide Here

Nellie Alkire, 60, Route 1, Williamsport, was slightly injured in a car-truck crash at Court and Franklin Sts. at 2:10 p. m. yesterday.

Mrs. Alkire was taken to Berger Hospital where she was treated for bruises and possible back injuries. The car was driven by her husband, Shelton Alkire, 60. He was not injured.

The truck was operated by Gerald Leist, 358 Logan St. He was uninjured.

Patrolman William Brungs said the Alkire auto was traveling west on Franklin St. The truck was headed south on Court St.

Patrolman Brungs said the car was heavily damaged. Damage was estimated at $1,000.

Highball Hilarity Hit by Council

CHICAGO (AP)—The National Safety Council asked business and industrial firms today to keep their Christmas parties dry or cut them out.

"This is no attempt to dampen the traditional Christmas spirit," the Council wrote.

"It is a practical attempt to eliminate a definite source of death and destruction on the highway at a time they hurt most—the Christmas season."

The Council said many Christmas traffic accidents can be traced to the office party and its highball hilarity.

Yank Object: To Attack Soviet Cities

U.N. Committee Hears Of 'Nightmarish' Plot Hatched by America

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —The Soviet Union charged today the United States has "nightmarish" plans to set up military bases on the moon to launch massive attacks on Soviet cities.

The Soviet charge came from Dep. Foreign Minister Valerian A. Zorin as the U.N.'s 81-nation Political Committee opened debate on the problem of space control.

Zorin told the committee the Soviet Union could not agree to any international program for the peaceful uses of outer space unless the United States pledged itself to liquidate all its foreign military bases.

He repeated previous Soviet demands for a ban on the use of Intercontinental Ballistic Missiles and other space weapons as another condition to any cooperation in space experiments such as the United States is urging.

The key to the whole problem, he said, is to adopt measures which will take into account the security of all sides on an equal basis.

Zorin quoted Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.), Senate majority leader, as saying, "Control over cosmic space means control over the whole world." He noted that Johnson was expected here to take part in the U.N. debate on space control.

Chief U.S. Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge said the U.S. position would be set forth in detail later, but he accused Zorin of distorting the U.S. position. He charged he was deliberately trying to mislead the committee.

"I believe the Soviet Union understands full well that our bases exist only for defense," Lodge declared.

The United States made clear it would oppose Russia's demand to approve both a ban on use of space for military purposes and elimination of foreign military bases on foreign soil, particularly Europe, the Middle East and Africa.

Arizona Town Loses Pioneer Rural Medic

WILLCOX, Ariz. (AP)—"Just a country doctor" is how most folks would describe Doc Wilson. But the 2,000 residents of this farming town feel Dr. John C. Wilson was more than that.

He brought healing and love to this onetime frontier settlement. He died Wednesday after a lengthy illness. He was 79.

Doc Wilson began as a horse-and-buggy doctor in 1903 — nine years before Arizona became a state. He brought into the world nearly all local residents under 50.

His small, wiry frame, ruddy face, sparkling eyes and rimless glasses were a familiar sight to many an injured outlaw, railroad man, miner and school kid.

He was elected mayor of Willcox three times. He organized the town's first American Legion post and Rotary Club, and he headed the committee that built its first airport and first golf course.

He was the town's health officer, school doctor and railroad physician. In recent years he was technical advisor to the television show, "Frontier Doctor."

Born May 12, 1879, in Owenton, Ky., and educated in Indiana, Doc Wilson was headed for California when he stopped in Willcox on Christmas Day 1903. A railroad man had been hurt. The town had no doctor. Wilson decided he was needed. So he stayed for good.

Woman Driver Slapped By Train, Then Police

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—A young woman escaped with cuts and bruises Tuesday night when a New York Central Railroad switch engine hit her pickup truck at a railroad crossing. Extricated from the wreckage by rescue squad workers, Miss Anna Verne Schwartz, 25, was treated in Toledo Hospital, then charged with disregarding a flasher signal.

Jordan Complaint Is Handed to U.N.

AMMAN, Jordan (AP)—Jordan has carried to the United Nations its charge of United Arab Republic aggression because Syrian jet fighters turned back King Hussein's plane. No immediate U.N. action was indicated today.

This desert kingdom also sought an immediate emergency meeting of the Arab League Council in Amman to discuss the aerial incident. The U.A.R. has denied the charge.

Johnson To Confer With Mexican Chief

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Eisenhower administration has called on Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.) for another bipartisan task — discussion of continental problems with the incoming president of Mexico.

Johnson, the Senate's Democratic leader, is expected to go to Mexico City some time this month to confer personally with President-elect Adolfo Lopez Mateos.

In Congress and the State Department the invitation to Johnson to undertake the personal diplomatic mission to Mexico was regarded as an indication the administration wants to work closely with the party leader in shoring up Latin American relations.

It was the second bipartisan assignment Johnson has been asked to undertake this week. Previously Secretary of State Dulles had announced Johnson had agreed to speak in the United Nations in behalf of the American resolution for the peaceful uses of outer space.

Although Johnson heads the opposition party in the Senate, he has worked closely with the Republican administration at times, especially on problems involving foreign policy. He said in a speech last week the increased Democratic majorities in the new Congress will meet President Eisenhower at least halfway.

Johnson is generally expected to retain his post as Democratic leader when the Senate meets in January. Sen. William Proxmire (D-Wis.), one of an increased number of liberal Democrats in the new Senate, said Tuesday he has found no indications of dissatisfaction with Johnson's course.

One senator-elect reported Tuesday he understood Johnson had called the 13 Democrats newly elected to the Senate to meet with him at his Texas ranch next month.

Johnson, in a telephone interview, discounted talk of a pre-session meeting and said he had issued no blanket invitation for one.

Hope Dims For Rescue of Buried Man

THOMASTON, Conn. (AP) — Danger of a second landslide hampered rescue workers today as they sought to free a construction worker trapped more than 12 hours under tons of rock and dirt.

Hope was dim for Matthew Pagarulo, about 38, of Torrington, who was buried near his power shovel at dusk Tuesday.

Rescuers said they doubted whether they could get to Pagarulo until late this afternoon.

Rescuers worked through the night under lights in the treacherous, shifting rubble in a ravine at the 17-million-dollar federal Thomaston Dam project.

The debris slid down the side of the 100-foot-high ravine in strange silence. The quiet was broken only when the rock and dirt slammed into the bottom of the ravine, trapping Pagarulo and covering most of the power shovel.

Pagarulo apparently was unaware of the landslide until the last minute, when he darted from the cab. He was caught by the slide.

Parliament Tuesday in separate resolutions. Cheering members gave Premier Samir Rifai a free hand to take any action necessary.

Hussein was flying toward a 24th birthday vacation in Europe Monday when two Communist-built MIG jet fighters turned him back over the U.A.R.'s Syrian Province. In a dramatic broadcast to his people, Hussein charged the MIGs sought to kill or capture him and had crossed over Jordan in the pursuit.

U.A.R. officials said Hussein's plane was crossing Syria without proper clearance and was stopped as a routine and legal measure. The incident shattered a recent improvement in relations between Jordan and the U.A.R., whose radio stations often in the past have called for Hussein's assassination.

Rifai told Parliament that U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld would be asked to arrange a Security Council debate on the Jordanian charges as soon as possible. A source at the U.N. in New York said, however, that the charges received there did not mention an emergency council meeting.

The parliamentary resolution for an Arab League meeting said it would "bring home to all Arabs the dreadfulness of Syria's act." There was no immediate response from the league headquarters in Cairo.

The U.A.R. has ridiculed Hussein's account of the incident. Cairo radio called it "a figment of Hussein's imagination" and claimed his report was a "story dreamed up by imperialists for a child (Hussein) to tell the world."

Famed Sabina Corpse Found On Campus

SABINA, Ohio (AP)—The dead man found on the Ohio State University campus at Columbus had been in that condition for nearly 30 years.

But when a university employee discovered the body lying on a campus bench Tuesday, police thought at first it had been dug up from its grave by pranksters.

Pranksters were involved, they learned, but not in the way they had believed. It turned out that the body—of a middle-aged Negro man—had been taken from the back room of a funeral home in this Clinton County town and transported to the OSU campus, apparently as a practical joke.

The perfectly preserved corpse, who everybody here had come to know as "Eugene," had been in that state since 1929 when a mortician performed what turned out to be an extraordinary embalming job.

No one ever came to claim the body, and "we don't know why we never buried him," said Bart Littleton, operator of the funeral home. "It was just one of those things."

At any rate, thanks to a police officer in Columbus who recalled the story of the unburied body, old Eugene is back "home" again today. He's resting on his couch in the mortuary, perhaps a little ruffled by his trip but none the worse for wear.

Power Firm Is Granted Rate Increase

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Midland Light & Power Co., which serves eight counties in south central Ohio, today was granted an $86,188 annual rate increase by the Utilities Commission.

New rates will be effective after they are filed with the commission.

The commission noted that the company will realize only a slight increase in revenue because it recently lost a wholesale customer.

The value of Ohio Midland property was set by the commission's staff at slightly less than $4 million dollars. The commission said the company will have a rate of return of 2.27 per cent against a present return of 2.25 per cent.

Yank Object: To Attack Soviet Cities

U.N. Committee Hears Of 'Nightmarish' Plot Hatched by America

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The Soviet Union charged today the United States has "nightmarish" plans to set up military bases on the moon to launch massive attacks on Soviet cities.

The Soviet charge came from Dep. Foreign Minister Valerian A. Zorin as the U.N.'s 81-nation Political Committee opened debate on the problem of space control.

Zorin told the committee the Soviet Union could not agree to any international program for the peaceful uses of outer space unless the United States pledged itself to liquidate all its foreign military bases.

He repeated previous Soviet demands for a ban on the use of Intercontinental Ballistic Missiles and other space weapons as an other condition to any cooperation in space experiments such as the United States is urging.

The key to the whole problem, he said, is to adopt measures which will take into account the security of all sides on an equal basis.

Zorin quoted Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.), Senate majority leader, as saying, "Control over cosmic space means control over the whole world." He noted that Johnson was expected here to take part in the U.N. debate on space control.

Chief U.S. Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge said the U.S. position would be set forth in detail later, but he accused Zorin of distorting the U.S. position. He charged he was deliberately trying to mislead the committee.

"I believe the Soviet Union understands full well that our bases exist only for defense," Lodge declared.

The United States made clear it would oppose Russia's demand to approve both a ban on use of space for military purposes and elimination of foreign military bases on foreign soil, particularly Europe, the Middle East and Africa.

Although Johnson heads the opposition party in the Senate, he has worked closely with the Republican administration at times, especially on problems involving foreign policy. He said in a speech last week the increased Democratic majorities in the new Congress will meet president Eisenhower at least halfway.

Johnson is generally expected to retain his post as Democratic leader when the Senate meets in January. Sen. William Proxmire (D-Wis.), one of an increased number of liberal Democrats in the new Senate, said Tuesday he has found no indications of dissatisfaction with Johnson's course.

One senator-elect reported Tuesday he understood Johnson had called the 13 Democrats newly elected to the Senate to meet with him at his Texas ranch next month.

Johnson, in a telephone interview, discounted talk of a press session meeting and said he had issued no blanket invitation for one.

He died Wednesday after a lengthy illness. He was 79.

Jordan Complaint Is Handed to U.N.

AMMAN, Jordan (AP)—Jordan has carried to the United Nations its charge of United Arab Republic aggression because Syrian jet fighters turned back King Hussein's plane. No immediate U.N. action was indicated today.

This desert kingdom also sought an immediate emergency meeting of the Arab League Council in Amman to discuss the aerial incident. The U.A.R. has denied the charge.

The two steps were approved by Parliament Tuesday in separate resolutions. Cheering members gave Premier Samir Rifai a free hand to take any action necessary.

Hussein was flying toward a 24th birthday vacation in Europe Monday when two Communist-built MIG jet fighters turned him back over the U.A.R.'s Syrian Province. In a dramatic broadcast to his people, Hussein charged the MIGs sought to kill or capture him and had crossed over Jordan in the pursuit.

U.A.R. officials said Hussein's plane was crossing Syria without proper clearance and was stopped as a routine and legal measure. The incident shattered a recent improvement in relations between Jordan and the U.A.R., whose radio stations often in the past have called for Hussein's assassination.

Rifai told Parliament that U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold would be asked to arrange a Security Council debate on the Jordanian charges as soon as possible. A source at the U.N. in New York said, however, that the charges received there did not mention an emergency council meeting.

The parliamentary resolution for an Arab League meeting said it would "bring home to all Arabs the dreadfulness of Syria's act." There was no immediate response from the league headquarters in Cairo.

The U.A.R. has ridiculed Hussein's account of the incident. Cairo radio called it "a figment of Hussein's imagination" and claimed his report was a "story dreamed up by imperialists for a child (Hussein) to tell the world."

It was the second bipartisan assignment Johnson has been asked to undertake this week. Previously Secretary of State Dulles had announced Johnson had agreed to speak in the United Nations in behalf of the American resolution for the peaceful uses of outer space.

Canton City Aide Coal Mine Tieup Raps Ohio Power's

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Canton's city solicitor charged today that the Ohio Power Co., through loans to and profits from a mining subsidiary, is jacking up the cost of coal used in producing power.

"When you can do that," commented city solicitor LeRoy J. Contie Jr., "you are in pay dirt."

His comment came at the close of a Utilities commission hearing on the application of Ohio Power for a fuel cost clause which would permit it to raise residential and commercial electric rates as the cost of fuel goes up. The firm serves about 440,000 customers in 43 Ohio counties.

The commission gave no indication it will rule on Ohio Power's application.

During today's hearing, George Patterson of Canton, assistant general manager of the company, testified the firm has lent its mining subsidiary, Central Ohio Coal Co., $5,400,000 and is collecting 3.3 per cent interest on the loan. In addition, he said, Central Ohio guarantees Ohio Power a 6 per cent return on its investment in the mining venture.

"These two items are added to the cost of the coal Ohio Power burns and, finally, are paid for by the consumers," Contie commented.

Ohio Power's subsidiary supplies about 60 per cent of the utility firm's coal needs.

Patterson pointed out about 75 per cent of Ohio Power's electricity sales are covered by fuel cost clauses. He added:

"The company x x x 4th graf c40 About 75 per cent of Ohio Power's electricity sales are covered by fuel costs clauses, he said, adding:

"The company finds itself no longer in a position to absorb further increases in fuel costs with respect to any customers and we therefore have asked to extend the fuel clause provision to our residential and commercial customers."

He explained the company wants to adjust its charges for each 11-cent increase in the company's coal cost.

Contie objected to the clause on grounds that none of the information furnished the city of Canton either by the company or the commission's own report has "brought anyone out of the fog yet."

"We can't say yes unless we are sure what the proposition is," Contie and his assistant, John Milligan, said Ohio Power mines about 60 per cent of the coal it uses and buys the rest on the open market. They expressed doubt as to how the fuel clause would apply to the coal mined by the company.

Patterson assured the commission: "During its entire history, Ohio Power never has increased its rates for residential and commercial customers despite the fact that our costs of doing business have increased greatly during the past several years."

"We are hopeful that we will not have to ask a general rate increase if we can obtain approval of the commission to include the fuel clause in our residential and commercial rates."

Patterson presented a table to show that each 11-cent a ton increase in the price of coal would raise the monthly bill of the average consumer only one cent.

Cornpicker Accident Causes Severe Cuts

James Davis, 34 of Route 1, Laurelville, suffered severe lacerations of the third and fourth finger of the right hand and a possible fracture when he caught his hand in a cornpicker at 3:45 p. m. yesterday at home.

He was admitted to Berger Hospital where his condition was listed as "good" this morning.

'Boss' Curley Dies in Boston At Age of 83

BOSTON (AP)—James Michael Curley, last of the big city political bosses, died at City Hospital. He would have been 84 Nov. 20.

Curley was a Democratic leader for more than half a century, serving four terms as mayor of Boston, one term as governor of Massachusetts and four as a congressman.

Slowly failing health had marked Curley's last years and he was long under treatment for diabetes.

Death came a few hours after a team of seven doctors performed a 55-minute emergency operation in an attempt to clear a clotting of the artery which supplies the small bowel.

Curley's long career was one of triumph and tragedy.

He won election to the highest offices in his home city and state and once was high in the councils of his Democratic party — but he also served two terms in jail.

His triumphs included election as governor Massachusetts at the peak of his career in 1934. He served one term. He was mayor of Boston for four terms of four years each.

He claimed to have carried Massachusetts for Alfred E. Smith in the 1928 national election and stumped the country in the 1932 election campaign of Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Curley's first wife, Mary, who bore him nine children, died in 1929. Seven of his children preceded him in death.

His daughter, Mary, died of a cerebral hemorrhage in February 1950. His son Leo, a lawyer, dropped dead the next day.

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market declined moderately early this afternoon in a rash of profit taking on its latest climb to record peaks. Trading was heavy.

Most losses of key stocks ran from fractions to about a point. A few gains and losses of selected issues were wider.

The drop followed two days of impressive advances to new highs.

The market's action followed a pattern that has become familiar. Once again a breathing spell seemed in order.

Prices were higher at the start but soon became mixed and then lower.

An unusually large number of big blocks were traded, reflecting important changes in major investment portfolios. Volume for the first two hours was 1,830,000 shares.

Steels, rails, utilities and non-ferrous metals were generally lower. Aircrafts and electronics kept an edge to the upside. Chemicals, oils, airlines, tobaccos and drugs were mixed.

Selling pressure built up in mid-morning, bringing losses of one to three points to leading stocks. These losses were cut considerably.

U.S. government bonds were steady.

2 Poachers Admit Killing Game Warden

CARMEL, N.Y. (AP)—Two New York City hunters have confessed killing an unarmed game warden who refused a $10 bribe to let them go after he caught them poaching for the second time on a 3,000-acre estate near here, police say.

Martin Anzalone, 28, an unemployed bricklayer, and Mario Sesta, 17, a barber's assistant, are in the Putnam County jail here to await a hearing Friday on first degree murder charges.

Anzalone and Sesta were arrested early Tuesday in their Bronx homes and under questioning admitted the shotgun slaying Monday of Clarence Smith, 28, father of three children, authorities said.

They were taken later to the estate of L. Arthur Cushman, board chairman of American Bakeries Co., at Patterson, N.Y., to re-enact the crime.

Police said Smith was shot in the back from a distance of several feet and again through the head at very close range.

Each man admitted firing one shot, police said.

Anzalone and young Sesta were arrested by Smith for poaching Oct. 20. They were fined $10 each by a justice of the peace.

Shirley Heeter, Nicholas Drive, was cited into Circleville Municipal Court today on a charge of driving under the influence of intoxicants.

Heeter, arrested by the sheriff's department, was fined $100 and costs, sentenced to three days in jail and had his driver's license suspended for six months. He also was fined $25 and costs for no valid driver's license.

Mary Massie, Route 3, Mt. Sterling, was fined $25 and costs for no driver's license. Arthur Massie, Route 1, Mt. Sterling, received a similar fine for permitting an unlicensed driver to operate a motor vehicle. Both were cited by the sheriff's department.

Dr. Grubbe, 83, whose pioneer work led to saving or prolonging millions of lives, was reported making satisfactory progress after the 1 1/2-hour operation.

Surgeons operated on the remaining three fingers on his right hand, and did additional work on his nose which has been practically destroyed by the seeds of malignancy scattered through his body by his early experiments.

Dr. Grubbe's upper lip, his jaw, left hand and most of the right side of his face have been eaten away.

Dr. Grubbe, who retired from active practice in 1949, has taught more than 7,000 physicians how to use X rays for healing purposes.

In 1951, the year book of the American Roentgen Ray Society credited Dr. Grubbe as the first to use X rays in treatments.

As a young physicist, he used a beam of X rays to treat a woman cancer patient in Chicago in 1896. This was only a few months after Wilhelm Roentgen, a German physicist, discovered that invisible penetrating X rays could be produced by sending an electrical charge through a vacuum tube. Roentgen at the time regarded the X ray as a valuable aid in diagnosis.

Lewis Stalling Talks on New Coal Contract

NEW YORK (AP) — John L. Lewis has stalled negotiations for a new soft coal wage agreement by demanding the industry refuse to handle nonunion mined coal, which represents about a fifth of the nation's total, it was reported today.

Lewis informally set Jan. 1 as a deadline for the soft coal contract, the New York Times said. This is the same date he gave hard coal operators for the end of their contract.

A shutdown of most soft and hard coal mines New Year's Day was unlikely, the Times added.

The talks have not yet got to wages.

On the nonunion coal issue, the soft coal operators reportedly told Lewis they saw no way of writing a ban into the contract without making themselves liable to prosecution under the federal antitrust laws.

Ohio's December Draft Call Slated For 936 Youths

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—State Selective Service headquarters today issued a December draft call of 936 men. The youngest registrant who may be inducted on this call must be at least 22 by Dec. 1 unless he is a volunteer or delinquent.

The number of men called is 117 more than in November, but 68 less than the September high for this year.

Doctor, 83 Under Knife 91st Time

CHICAGO (AP) — Dr. Emil H. Grubbe, internationally noted physician, underwent his 91st operation Tuesday for cancerous burns suffered more than 50 years ago when he became the world's first scientist to use X rays in human medicine.

Dr. Grubbe, 83, whose pioneer work led to saving or prolonging millions of lives, was reported making satisfactory progress after the 1 1/2-hour operation.

Surgeons operated on the remaining three fingers on his right hand, and did additional work on his nose which has been practically destroyed by the seeds of malignancy scattered through his body by his early experiments.

Dr. Grubbe's upper lip, his jaw, left hand and most of the right side of his face have been eaten away.

Dr. Grubbe, who retired from active practice in 1949, has taught more than 7,000 physicians how to use X rays for healing purposes.

In 1951, the year book of the American Roentgen Ray Society credited Dr. Grubbe as the first to use X rays in treatments.

As a young physicist, he used a beam of X rays to treat a woman cancer patient in Chicago in 1896. This was only a few months after Wilhelm Roentgen, a German physicist, discovered that invisible penetrating X rays could be produced by sending an electrical charge through a vacuum tube. Roentgen at the time regarded the X ray as a valuable aid in diagnosis.

Saltcreek Farm Owner Asks For Injunction

Retha Pearce, Saltcreek Twp., Monday in Pickaway County Common Pleas Clerk of Court's office filed a request for a mandatory injunction against David Towell, Chillicothe.

Mrs. Pearce claimed that Towell's farm laborer or tenant, Claud Counts, was leaving gates open along a joint lane, thereby allowing her farm animals to escape when being led from the barns to the fields.

Mrs. Pearce, represented by local attorney, Emmitt Crist, stated in her petition that the lane is located equally upon both properties, which are adjoining.

She asked the court to order Towell to either close the gates or fence them in.

Canton City Aide Coal Mine Tieup Raps Ohio Power's

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Canton's city solicitor charged today that the Ohio Power Co., through loans to and profits from a mining subsidiary, is jacking up the cost of coal used in producing power.

"When you can do that," commented city solicitor LeRoy J. Contie Jr., "you are in pay dirt."

His comment came at the close of a Utilities commission hearing on the application of Ohio Power for a fuel cost clause which would permit it to raise residential and commercial electric rates as the cost of fuel goes up. The firm serves about 440,000 customers in 43 Ohio counties.

The commission gave no indication it will rule on Ohio Power's application.

During today's hearing, George Patterson of Canton, assistant general manager of the company, testified the firm has lent its mining subsidiary, Central Ohio Coal Co.,

$5,400,000 and is collecting 3.3 per cent interest on the loan. In addition, he said, Central Ohio guarantees Ohio Power a 6 per cent return on its investment in the mining venture.

"These two items are added to the cost of the coal Ohio Power burns and, finally, are paid for by the consumers," Contie commented.

Ohio Power's subsidiary supplies about 60 per cent of the utility firm's coal needs.

Patterson pointed out about 75 per cent of Ohio Power's electricity sales are covered by fuel cost clauses. He added:

The company x x xth graf c40 About 75 per cent of Ohio Power's electricity sales are covered by fuel costs clauses, he said, adding:

"The company finds itself no longer in a position to absorb further increases in fuel costs with respect to any customers and we therefore have asked to extend the fuel clause provision to our residential and commercial customers."

He explained the company wants to adjust its charges for each 11-cent increase in the company's coal cost.

Contie objected to the clause on grounds that none of the information furnished the city of Canton either by the company or the commission's own report has "brought anyone out of the fog yet."

"We can't say yes unless we are sure what the proposition is," Contie and his assistant, John Milligan, said Ohio Power mines about 60 per cent of the coal it uses and buys the rest on the open market. They expressed doubt as to how the fuel clause would apply to the coal mined by the company.

Patterson assured the commission: "During its entire history, Ohio Power never has increased its rates for residential and commercial customers despite the fact that our costs of doing business have increased greatly during the past several years."

"We are hopeful that we will not have to ask a general rate increase if we can obtain approval of the commission to include the fuel clause in our residential and commercial rates."

Patterson presented a table to show that each 11-cent a ton increase in the price of coal would raise the monthly bill of the average consumer only one cent.

Cornpicker Accident Causes Severe Cuts

James Davis, 34 of Route 1, Laurelville, suffered severe lacerations of the third and fourth finger of the right hand and a possible fracture when he caught his hand in a cornpicker at 3:45 p. m. yesterday at home.

He was admitted to Berger Hospital where his condition was listed as "good" this morning.

'Boss' Curley Dies in Boston At Age of 83

BOSTON (AP)—James Michael Curley, last of the big city political bosses, died at City Hospital. He would have been 84 Nov. 20.

Curley was a Democratic leader for more than half a century, serving four terms as mayor of Boston, one term as governor of Massachusetts and four as a congressman.

Slowly failing health had marked Curley's last years and he was long under treatment for diabetes. Death came a few hours after a team of seven doctors performed a 55-minute emergency operation in an attempt to clear a clotting of the artery which supplies the small bowel.

Curley's long career was one of triumph and tragedy.

He won election to the highest offices in his home city and state and once was high in the councils of his Democratic party — but he also served two terms in jail.

His triumphs included election as governor Massachusetts at the peak of his career in 1934. He served one term. He was mayor of Boston for four terms of four years each.

He claimed to have carried Massachusetts for Alfred E. Smith in the 1928 national election and stumped the country in the 1932 election campaign of Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Curley's first wife, Mary, who bore him nine children, died in 1929. Seven of his children preceded him in death.

His daughter, Mary, died of a cerebral hemorrhage in February 1950. His son Leo, a lawyer, dropped dead the next day.

2 Poachers Admit Killing Game Warden

CARMEL, N.Y. (AP)—Two New York City hunters have confessed killing an unarmed game warden who refused a $10 bribe to let them go after he caught them poaching for the second time on a 3,000-acre estate near here, police say.

Martin Anzalone, 28, an unemployed bricklayer, and Mario Sesta, 17, a barber's assistant, are in the Putnam County jail here to await a hearing Friday on first degree murder charges.

Anzalone and Sesta were arrested early Tuesday in their Bronx homes and under questioning admitted the shotgun slaying Monday of Clarence Smith, 28, father of three children, authorities said.

They were taken later to the estate of L. Arthur Cushman, board chairman of American Bakeries Co., at Patterson, N.Y., to re-enact the crime.

Police said Smith was shot in the back from a distance of several feet and again through the head at very close range.

Each man admitted firing one shot, police said.

Anzalone and young Sesta were arrested by Smith for poaching Oct. 20. They were fined $10 each by a justice of the peace.

Motorist Faces OMVI Accusation

Shirley Heeter, Nicholas Drive, was cited into Circleville Municipal Court today on a charge of driving under the influence of intoxicants.

Heeter, arrested by the sheriff's department, was fined $100 and costs, sentenced to three days in jail and had his driver's license suspended for six months. He also was fined $25 and costs for no valid driver's license.

Mary Massie, Route 3, Mt. Sterling, was fined $25 and costs for no driver's license. Arthur Massie, Route 1, Mt. Sterling, received a similar fine for permitting an unlicensed driver to operate a motor vehicle. Both were cited by the sheriff's department.

Lewis Stalling Talks on New Coal Contract

NEW YORK (AP) — John L. Lewis has stalled negotiations for a new soft coal wage agreement by demanding the industry refuse to handle nonunion mined coal, which represents about a fifth of the nation's total, it was reported today.

Lewis informally set Jan. 1 as a deadline for the soft coal contract, the New York Times said. This is the same date he gave hard coal operators for the end of their contract.

A shutdown of most soft and hard coal mines New Year's Day was unlikely, the Times added.

The talks have not yet got to wages.

On the nonunion coal issue, the soft coal operators reportedly told Lewis they saw no way of writing a ban into the contract without making themselves liable to prosecution under the federal antitrust laws.

The number of men called is 117 more than in November, but 68 less than the September high for this year.

'WISH I WERE DEAD' — So said John Hines, Jr., of Detroit, who is accused of being the driver of a wrong-way auto that killed seven persons in a two-car crash, the worst accident in Ohio Turnpike history. Hines, 41, in a Norwalk, O., hospital, has been charged with traffic manslaughter.

Doctor, 83 Under Knife 91st Time

CHICAGO (AP) — Dr. Emil H. Grubbe, internationally noted physician, underwent his 91st operation Tuesday for cancerous burns suffered more than 50 years ago when he became the world's first scientist to use X rays in human medicine.

Dr. Grubbe, 83, whose pioneer work led to saving or prolonging millions of lives, was reported making satisfactory progress after the 1 1/2-hour operation.

Surgeons operated on the remaining three fingers on his right hand, and did additional work on his nose which has been practically destroyed by the seeds of malignancy scattered through his body by his early experiments.

Dr. Grubbe's upper lip, his jaw, left hand and most of the right side of his face have been eaten away.

Dr. Grubbe, who retired from active practice in 1949, has taught more than 7,000 physicians how to use X rays for healing purposes.

In 1951, the year book of the American Roentgen Ray Society credited Dr. Grubbe as the first to use X rays in treatments.

As a young physicist, he used a beam of X rays to treat a woman cancer patient in Chicago in 1896. This was only a few months after Wilhelm Roentgen, a German physicist, discovered that invisible penetrating X rays could be produced by sending an electrical charge through a vacuum tube. Roentgen at the time regarded the X ray as a valuable aid in diagnosis.

Saltcreek Farm Owner Asks For Injunction

Retha Pearce, Saltcreek Twp., Monday in Pickaway County Common Pleas Clerk of Court's office filed a request for a mandatory injunction against David Towell, Chillicothe.

Pearce claimed that Towell's farm laborer or tenant, Claude Counts, was leaving gates open along a joint lane, thereby allowing her farm animals to escape when being led from the barns to the fields.

Mrs. Pearce, represented by local attorney, Emmitt Crist, stated in her petition that the lane is located equally upon both properties, which are adjoining.

She asked the court to order Towell to either close the gates or fence them in.

Farm Bureau Official Fired For Activity During Campaign

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The so-called right to work issue has reappeared—at the 40th annual meeting of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation.

Ferris Owen of Newark, vice president of the federation, was removed from his post as chairman of its policy development committee Monday because of his part in the campaign. The number of trustees who voted for his removal was not revealed.

While the federation remained neutral on Issue No. 2, Owen expressed opposition. Although he stressed that his views were personal and emphasized "the federation's neutrality, the organization became associated with the controversy, a federation spokesman asserted.

H. D. Heckathorn of Forest (Hardin County) assumed the chairmanship.

At the same time, and apparently as a result, trustees announced this resolution:

"It shall be the policy of the federation that no board member, official or employee shall make any public statement dealing with the policy of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation on any matter unless that statement is clearly and unmistakably in full agreement with the established policy of the organization.

"He shall not permit his personal views to be expressed on a controversial matter which links his name in any way with the name of the organization."

The organization's highest honor, the Distinguished Service to Agriculture Award, was presented to C. M. Ferguson, administrator of the Federal Extension Service of the U.S. Department of Agriculture, and W. E. Stough of Galion, today.

Ferguson has been active in 4-H farm youth work and Stough is a veteran Ohio farmer active in a number of agricultural organizations.

The associate director of the American Farm Bureau's Washington office, John C. Lynn, told the group today that the 1950s may be recorded in history as a period when agricultural sciences came of age, and the 1960s may be the time when farmers stop producing just to market and plan production just for a market.

The Ohio federation's executive vice president, D. R. Stanfield, said new dimensions in agriculture include efficiency in production, more complex marketing arrangements, substitution of capital for labor because it is cheaper and more plentiful, the need for wise farm management, and the interdependence of specialized organizations.

New Floor Care Ends Waxing

One of the difficult jobs of house-keeping is to wax linoleum and asphalt tile floors. Now, thanks to Glaze, it's no longer necessary to wax and scrub; just apply Glaze about twice a year. It maintains a high lustre, non slip coating that seals out dirt. Glaze dries in one hour and is water clear. It's cheaper than wax in the long run, besides saving a terrific amount of work, plus truly a beautiful floor.

Start Now To Eliminate Wild Garlic

Farmers who have fields infested with wild garlic can deliver the first of a one-two knockout punch to the pest this fall.

The tops of wild garlic can be killed and the formation of reproductive bodies prevented by 2, 4-D ester, not amine, applied at the rate of 2 to 3 pounds per acre in about 10 gallons of water. This treatment will not kill dormant bulbs in the soil.

Since new garlic shoots emerge in both the fall and spring, eradication of this species requires two timely treatments each year until all viable bulbs have germinated and the tops killed before new underground bulbs have formed.

The first 2, 4-D application can be made in either fall or spring. The fall application of 2, 4-D at 2 to 3 pounds per acre should be made in November. This will kill the newly emerged garlic shoots and thus prevent them from producing new bulbs and bulblets the next year.

A second application at the same rate must be made in March to kill the shoots that emerge from previously dormant bulbs. Best results are obtained from treatment after the maximum air temperature has reached 55 to 60 degrees mainly because more shoots are up. April treatments will kill the garlic shoots but they will be less effective than March treatments in preventing the formation of underground bulbs.

A new Extension publication on wild garlic control is now available at the County Extension Office. This publication deals with wild garlic control in permanent pasture, meadows, corn, wheat and other crops.

Alexander Hamilton and Robert Fulton are buried in the Trinity Church graveyard near New York's Wall Street financial section.

Normal Crop Rotation Best Remedy for Ear Rot in Corn

By GEORGE HAMRICK
County Extension Agent
Ear rots this year have caused considerable loss of corn.

There are four of these rots: Gibberella and Fusarium ear rots are noticed by their gray or white appearance.

These rots or fungi are particularly prevalent during a wet season such as we have just experienced.

Gibberella ear rot discolors the ears, husks, and kernels. Infection usually begins at the tip of the ear and progresses toward the base. Gibberella also causes stalk rot, seedling blight, and scab in wheat.

Reduce Lice By Spraying

Treat dairy cows with rotenone before winter and lice won't reduce milk production, George Hamrick, County Extension Agent, Agriculture, advises.

Lice are more troublesome in winter when cows hair coats are thick and long and provide protection for the insects. Cattle infested with lice often rub along fences, feed bunks and buildings to get relief from irritation caused by pests. Balls of hair on barbed wire fences are signs indicating the cattle may have lice.

Rotenone is the only insecticide approved by the United States Department of Agriculture for control of lice on dairy cattle. The cattle should be dusted with 1 per cent rotenone or apply it as a spray some warm, sunny day this fall. For the spray, mix 2 pounds of 5 per cent wettable powder in 100 gallons of water and thoroughly soak each animal with 2 gallons of the dilute spray. Check the cattle two weeks later. A repeat spray application may be necessary.

Clipping the cattle in December and January will supplement the use of rotenone in control of lice.

Fusarium ear rot is usually distinguished by random infection of kernels over the entire ear.

THE MOST TYPICAL symptom of Nigrospora is the shredding of the cob. The rot is usually not conspicuous until harvest.

Gray ear rot has been found throughout most of the United States. Ears affected by Gray ear rot are noticed by husks that are bleached and adhere to each other by the growth of the fungus.

In fields where either of these ear rots are bad it would be wise to sort out infected ears and not store them with healthy ears.

The best practical control is sanitation. This involves a rotation of crop land. During the meadow crop the fungi will die, leaving a healthy field for the next corn crop.

ATLANTA (AP) — A rescuer scared Tinnie the cat out of a hole in a building wall today by using a tin can filled with pebbles.

The cat, imprisoned for nine days, was freed through efforts of J. W. Ray, manager of the Atlanta Humane Society. An expert animal rescuer reportedly flying from Boston had not shown up when the cat was freed.

Tinnie, one of two cats owned by Clarence Coursey, 67, fell from the window ledge of the hotel where Coursey lives. The hotel adjoins another structure with only six or eight inches separating the buildings.

Tune of a Hickory Stick

Comes now the stern warning to parents, from no less an authority than Dr. James B. Conant, president emeritus of Harvard University, that in straining every sinew to get their offspring into colleges, they run the risk of having the youngsters turn out social misfits.

Too much pressure is no good, the eminent pedagogue cautions, leaving to the individual and befuddled parent determination of the exact spot at which plunking for Junior threatens permanent injury to his libido.

Dr. Conant, at the end of a praiseworthy study of criticisms that high school youngsters are not made to work hard enough, winds up—as do increasing numbers of his colleagues in modern education—with an indictment not of the youngsters, but of their parents.

He deplores "social pressures" on schools from parents eager to see that their children get into colleges, whether or not abilities are extant, and lays a heavy pedagogical hand on the father or mother who is engaged in such activity. All this, he soberly intones, may cause damage to the child.

Dr. Conant seems to overlook the historic truth that his parents are traditionally the last to recognize the fact that Lysander may well be a dunklehead, and that even in the face of that, they will continue to nudge him along the road to higher learning.

More disturbing, however, is the aid and comfort he gives to a new school of educators which seems to hold that all of the academic shortcomings and failures of children are somehow attributable to their elders.

If little Heliotrope cannot learn history, the obscure reason may be that her grand-sire voted for McKinley instead of Debs, or that her father played the wrong instrument in his high school band, and not at all that she spent the night at television instead of homework.

If Weatherbee George Dupree III lacks proficiency in biology, it is because mother wasn't a good dancer, or dad still uses a straight razor. Rarely because he never studies.

Getting a boy or girl into and through college these days calls for much care and hard work—by parents, that is—according to those who should know whereof they speak. Just the same, however, that isn't how it used to be 'way back when the youngster had to do quite a lot for himself.

Courtin' Main

There are only 35 more shopping days 'til Christmas. Seems like we're still paying last year's bills.

Men, Arise! Carry a Cane!

NEW YORK (AP) — Theodore Roosevelt once advised, "Speak softly—and carry a big stick."

Most men today speak real softly, but few carry a stick. This may be why the modern city man feels so helpless.

Social critics deplore the fading masculinity of the American male. One way to restore it might be to revive the fine old manly custom of carrying a walking stick or cane.

At present anyone wearing a cane is regarded as being afflicted either with snobbishness or a physical infirmity, such as rheumatism or the agonies of gout.

This attitude is all wrong and, I strongly suspect, probably woman-inspired.

Why should women want to spread the idea that cane-wearing is sissified? Why, for their own selfish ends—to make men less and less able to cope with them.

In our cave dwelling prime when every bucko carried a club, woman was afraid to turn her back on man — and always followed respectfully three paces behind him. If she got out of line, or ear-jawed her husband too much, he simply belted her back into place.

Over the centuries she gradually cajoled him into carrying a smaller and smaller club, finally sold the foolish oaf on the ridiculous theory he should quit carrying a stick altogether because it made him look like a sissy.

So what happened? Like another Sampson shorn of his symbol of strength, modern man has become a weakling. He follows meekly behind woman into elevators, trails her to the feed trough—the buffet table—gets the last seat on the bus, if any.

Woman, on the other hand, has not been so foolish as to abandon her own self-defense. She has increased it. She prowls the town packing either a parasol slender enough to inflict a mortal wound, or a handbag heavy enough to fell a rampaging elephant.

No wonder weaponless man feels so helpless in this civilization. In any sudden trouble a husband has to rush to his wife to find any real protection.

But put a cane in a man's hands even for a few moments, and watch the marvelous change in him. He feels a foot taller. He is D'Artagnan.

He stabs at a hydrant, he spears at a falling leaf. The remnant caveman in him surges into new life. A glorious feeling of power sweeps through his veins.

The cane becomes a living extension of his muscles. He waves it aloft. He sniffs the air. He is ready to fend off mad dogs, muggers—even bill collectors.

Let 40 million men start carrying a stout walking stick again and you'd see a proud new rebirth of American manhood.

And women? Well, they might find they kind of liked a change in the present situation, too.

We Don't Owe 'Em a Cent

Every morning, I receive quite a few documents from foreign governments designed to give me information on various subjects. Much of it is hardly worth the postage, but then men need jobs, and women need them, too.

Admittedly it is impossible for anyone to read all this material, but an occasional sampling brings forth something useful. Such a one is "For the Record," published by the Arab Information Center, which is a complaint that the United States gives more money to Israel than to the Arab states.

That may or may not be a fact, but it is our money and we can do with it as we like. We owe nothing to the Arabs or to Israel and if we do them a favor by giving them some money, they ought to be grateful for our generosity and sympathy and not give us any lip about how we should spend our own dough.

These Arabs have worked it out statistically. It seems that they figure that the "American taxpayer has on the average paid 35 cents per year for each Arab." "For the Record" thinks that is too little. If it is bakhsheesh (a gentle word for graft in their tongue), it may be too little, but actually what is this money being paid for? The report does not say. It only says that Israel gets more.

Let me quote a paragraph from this Arab document, published in the United States for American consumption:

"No matter which way one looks at these assistance statistics, the United States Government has given considerably more help to Israel than to all the Arab countries. There can be little wonder that informed quarters have expressed strong criticism of American economic policies in the Middle Eastern and North African areas. There is little wonder that the belief has spread among many Middle Easterners that the United States has not only ignored the Arab states, but that it positively supports certain states over the Arab states."

So what? Suppose we decide to give no American money to any country unless we get a quid pro quo; that is something for something. What will these Arabs give us that we have not contracted and paid for by now?

The sad fact about foreign aid is that many countries no longer recognize that this is charity to them, an act of generosity on the part of the American people. They have been aided so freely that they have come to believe that it is coming to them, that they are, in effect, bribing them to do something for us. That is why some countries are putting conditions on foreign aid — "no strings attached."

It is well-nigh time to remind such countries that the choice is still ours and also that we do not care whether they do go to Soviet Russia for aid. Let the Russians go broke sending their material wealth to weak and backward countries. These governments need a dose of Russian instructors and experts and organizers. Nehru let them in and now the state of Kerala is Communist. Suddenly Nehru is beginning to realize what a Trojan Horse can mean.

That is not merely an Arab question. Whoever put out this piece of propaganda is a poor hand at the job. Instead of licking the boot of his benefactor, he tries to bite the calf of his leg because he gives some other country a little more. It proves nothing; it changes nothing; but it shows his boss that he writes copy. Maybe my paying attention to it will save the guy's job. But the tone of this document is universal. Nations instead of looking after themselves have

Rapidly we are becoming the prey of a gang of blackmailers who make increasing demands and threaten to go over to the Russians if we do not come across. Well, let them go over. Some Sinusitis Symptoms

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.
A stuffy nose might be a symptom of any number of things. It might mean only that you have a common cold or it might mean sinus trouble.

Only your doctor, of course, can tell if you really do have sinusitis. But there are many other symptoms in addition to a stuffed nose which can give even the uneducated layman a pretty good idea whether the trouble lies in the sinuses.

Usually you will have a headache or pain over the infected sinus in the morning. Late in the afternoon the pain will ease up considerably.

You may also notice pain in the upper teeth, the cheek and elsewhere in the head. Maybe your forehead will pain you upon pressure.

You may have fever, you may cough, your eyelids, cheeks or forehead may swell and you probably will feel pretty tired and generally ache all over.

As for your nose, that often will give you plenty of trouble. The nasal passages probably will be dry. Because of the lack of drainage and the swollen membrane they will be clogged.

Perhaps there will be a discharge from the nose or a dripping from the back of the nose into your throat. Some sinus victims even partially lose their sense of smell.

The sinuses, you must understand, are the air spaces in the bones of the head and face and are connected by small openings with the nose. It's easy to see how any infection in the nose can spread rapidly to the sinuses.

The air spaces which most commonly become infected are those in the cheek bones below the eyes, those between and behind the eyes and those above the eyes.

Sometimes the pain can be relieved by applying a hot water bag or hot compresses over the inflammation. Or an electric heating pad could be used instead. But these methods won't cure the infection.

Your doctor has a number of drugs to relieve the pain, shrink the swollen membranes and clear up the infection. Let me caution you, however, to use inhalants, salves or nose drops only if they are prescribed by your physician.

Sometimes we run across severe cases which can't be remedied by medical treatment. In such instances, we have to perform surgical treatment, such as an operation to open the sinuses to permit them to drain.

Question and Answer
R. H.: What would cause my ankles to swell and ache?

Answer: One of the most common causes of swollen ankles is heart or kidney disease. Another common cause is prolonged standing. Swelling of the ankles may also occur in people who have had an insufficient diet, especially in protein foods.

You should have a careful study made by your physician to determine the exact cause of your trouble and then carefully follow his advice.

Tune of a Hickory Stick

Comes now the stern warning to parents, from no less an authority than Dr. James B. Conant, president emeritus of Harvard University, that in straining every sinew to get their offspring into colleges, they run the risk of having the youngsters turn out social misfits.

Too much pressure is no good, the eminent pedagogue cautions, leaving to the individual and befuddled parent determination of the exact spot at which plunking for Junior threatens permanent injury to his libido.

Dr. Conant, at the end of a praiseworthy study of criticisms that high school youngsters are not made to work hard enough, winds up—as do increasing numbers of his colleagues in modern education—with an indictment not of the youngsters, but of their parents.

He deprecates "social pressures" on schools from parents eager to see that their children get into colleges, whether or not abilities are extant, and lays a heavy pedagogical hand on the father or mother who is engaged in such activity. All this, he soberly intones, may cause damage to the child.

Dr. Conant seems to overlook the historic truth that his parents are traditionally the last to recognize the fact that Lysander may well be a dunkehead, and that even in the face of that, they will continue to nudge him along the road to higher learning.

More disturbing, however, is the aid and comfort he gives to a new school of educators which seems to hold that all of the academic shortcomings and failures of children are somehow attributable to their elders.

If little Heliotrope cannot learn history, the obscure reason may be that her grand-sire voted for McKinley instead of Debs, or that her father played the wrong instrument in his high school band, and not at all that she spent the night at television instead of homework.

If Weatherbee George Dupree III lacks proficiency in biology, it is because mother wasn't a good dancer, or dad still uses a straight razor. Rarely because he never studies.

Getting a boy or girl into and through college these days calls for much care and hard work—by parents, that is—according to those who should know whereof they speak. Just the same, however, that isn't how it used to be 'way back when the youngster had to do quite a lot for himself.

General Guild Plans Annual Christmas Bazaar Friday

The Hospital Guilds are busy putting the finishing touches on their wares which will be on display during the Annual General Christmas Bazaar.

The bazaar will be held from 10 a. m. to 6 p. m. Friday in the lobby of the American Hotel. Mrs. Jasper Hedges and Mrs. John E. Minke are co-chairmen.

Guild No. 1, consisting of the Doctors' wives, under the direction of Mrs. Lloyd Jones, are busily constructing dried flower arrangements for winter use. They have been tramping the woods near Griner's cabin collecting their equipment and some of the ladies have even brought in unusual plants from their travels and have carefully dried and preserved them for use in their handiwork. Our hats are off to this guild who have worked long and hard to keep the ball rolling and to organize new guilds. They not only work within their own guild but the executive board of the General Guild always contains the names of two or three who devote even more of their time to this work.

Guild No. 2 is offering a variety of Christmas items such as decorations, candy jars, earrings and book covers. Mrs. John Bowers and Mrs. Henry Schroeder have guided the guild all this year in making these articles and anticipate an early sell-out.

Guild No. 3 is contributing baked goods to a central booth. Mrs. W. A. Thomas is chairman of this guild. The baked goods booth shows great promise this year of being extremely well stocked.

Mrs. Lemuel Weldon is chairman of Guild No. 4 and as usual they have secured some fine specimens of Erickson glass, a local product. This is exquisite glass and blown by master craftsmen at Bremen, O.

Guild No. 6 reports that they have for sale luncheon cloths and place mats. This sounds like a practical gift idea for the holidays. Mrs. David Horn is chairman of this guild.

Guild No. 7 are planning a variety of home baked foods and Mrs. Arthur Johnson hopes for a hundred per cent representation from her guild. Although this guild will not sponsor a booth they will contribute their offerings to a central food booth.

This same arrangement holds true for Guild No. 11, whose chairman, Mrs. Lincoln Mader tells us that they are planning to contribute baked goods also.

Mrs. William Defenbaugh of Guild No. 12, reports that her guild is busy making yarn toys for children and will also have small gift items of needlepoint for sale. Mrs. Sterling Poling is bazaar chairman for this guild.

This year as in previous years, Guild No. 13 will be holding forth at their own country store booth. These ladies are experienced cooks and we can expect some real delicacies from them.

Guild No. 15 under the leadership of Mrs. Robert Jones is making aprons as usual. These aprons have always been warmly received and have been constantly good sellers.

Mrs. Charles Fullen, of Guild No. 16, is anxiously awaiting the arrival of her guild's order for the delicious pecans they sell each year. This year also, the ladies have planned to make pecan pies for sale.

Miss Eloise Hanley of Guild No. 19, announces her group is making candles and stuffed animals... both sound intriguing and attractive for the holidays.

Guild No. 20 have been busy since last summer sewing. Their main item will be doll clothes from the Ginny doll size to the 10 1/2 inch doll size. Mrs. Francis Wirth also reports that there will be a limited supply of nurses aprons and caps for little girls to dress up in.

We have seen the fine work of Guild No. 23. The officers Mrs. Edgar Anderson, Mrs. Norman Kutler and Mrs. Tom Shea have allowed a look at the lovely pointsettias which they have made.

Guild No. 27 which is quite sizable with 22 members is under the direction of Mrs. Robert Christy and Mrs. Walter Yamarick. We hear that they are offering stuffed hobby horses, earrings made by their artistic Mrs. Luna, and matchbox covers.

Guild No. 28, led by Mrs. E. J. Stucker, each have their own specialties leaning toward the home crafts of sewing aprons, baking and raising plants for sale.

The good cooks of Guild No. 29 will contribute to a central food booth and Miss Betty Boldoser is their chairman. Mrs. Darl McAfee is bazaar chairman as this too is a large group.

Mrs. Frank Barnhill and Mrs. Paul Porter have had Guild No. 31 busy as bees making card table covers, kissing rings and candy jars. Mrs. Charles Thompson is the guiding light behind all these original ideas. Miss Mary Virginia Crites has mentioned making that delicious cocktail mix.

Guild No. 35 whose officers are Mrs. M. J. Copeland and Mrs. J. M. Yunker hopes to share a booth with another guild. Their offerings will be aprons, Christmas stockings and hand made toys.

Also having toys for sale will be Guild No. 36 with Mrs. Richard Koch at the helm. Besides the toys they will have oven savers.

Mrs. Norman Ritter of Guild No. 37, brought a sample of her guild's handiwork to the last general meeting and the sewing kits were very attractive and should make nice gifts for Christmas.

Mrs. Robert Wilson's Guild No. 38 will have a booth and have reported they will have aprons and wall plaques for sale.

CHRISTMAS ITEMS — Berger Hospital Guild No. 35 plans to share a booth to show their wares during the Bazaar. Mrs. J. M. Yunker holds a hand made toy for Mrs. Thomas Matesky to view. Other items to be on hand are aprons and Christmas stockings.

Guest Night Enjoyed by Jaycee Wives

Guest night was held by the Junior Chamber of Commerce Wives Club last night at the Pickaway Country Club.

Mrs. Romaine Wilson, president, welcomed the guest and old members and gave a brief history of the organization. She also told the group of the present day projects of the club.

Following the dessert course, cards were enjoyed by the group. Prize winners were: Mrs. Richard Fullen, Mrs. William Clifton, Mrs. Gordon Anderson, Mrs. William Speakman, Mrs. Donald Hill and Mrs. David McCaughey. The door prize was won by Mrs. William Richards and the mystery package by Mrs. Howard Weaver.

Guests present were: Mrs. Earl Palm, Mrs. Harry W. Fraas, Mrs. McCaughey, Mrs. William Stout, Mrs. Weaver, Mrs. Robert Wilkenson and Mrs. Richard Snoffer.

Past members attending were: Mrs. Speakman, Mrs. Roger May, Mrs. Glen McCoy and Mrs. Robert Porter.

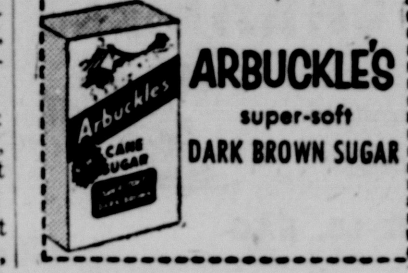

Members were: Mrs. Robert Johnson, Mrs. William Blanton, Mrs. Hill, Mrs. Richards, Mrs.

Hewitt Harmount, Mrs. Harold Nagel, Mrs. Fullen, Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. Clifton, Mrs. John Fissell, Mrs. Tom Henkle, Mrs. Anderson and Mrs. Guy Hannah.

Lucille Ball, Desi Arnaz Ready Now 'To Help Others'

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Two years ago Lucille Ball and Desi Arnaz agreed: "We've had the best of it; now we've got to help others."

Today workmen are putting the finishing touches on the latest result of that resolve, the Desilu Workshop.

Once they both worked for RKO Studios. Now they own it. And they have spent a large sum to make over a storage building into a handsome new theater seating 200. Here, the Arnazes will give a helping hand to struggling young talent.

"We both were in on the planning stages, but Desi is so darned busy that I've had to take over and work out the details," said Lucy.

"And what a job it has been! One day I auditioned 70 young actors and actresses. I never heard so much Chekhov in all my life. I made a 10-minute speech of encouragement after each audition. I'll never do that again. The most I should see in one day is five or six."

But the results have been good, she said, and she is greatly enthused over the project despite a couple of harrowing experiences with would-be actors.

By the end of the year, she hopes to have the program in full swing. There will be one play in preparation, one in rehearsal, and one on the boards each night before a paid audience.

The hopefuls will have the benefit of expert direction and actual audiences. They'll be under salary and will have first crack at acting jobs in Desilu's 19 TV series. This is the same kind of training Lucille got in her early days as an RKO starlet. Ginger Rogers' mother, Leila, ran a little theater on the lot.

"It was terrific experience to have real audiences to play to," Lucille recalled. "Otherwise, you'd spend most of your time waiting around for one line in a picture."

What Happens If School Board Quits?

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—What happens to a community's schools when its school board quits?

Who operates the schools? These questions face Little Rock today.

Five of the six members of the school board have discussed resigning. This report was confirmed Monday by a member who declined to be identified by name.

Wayne Upton, board president, said the group would meet officially today—ostensibly to discuss the latest federal court ruling ordering integration at once in Little Rock's public schools.

If the board resigns, who is left to handle the routine duties—such as signing paychecks—or attempt to carry out Monday's edict from the U.S. Eighth Circuit Court of Appeals? Should the board stay on, how can it integrate schools which are not operating?

Gov. Orval E. Faubus closed Little Rock's four high schools to avoid integration. He has shown no inclination to reopen them.

County Supervisor A. B. Wetherington said he is not sure just who can appoint a new school board.

A recent legislative act which authorized recall of board members provided that the vacancies would be filled by the county judge until the next school election.

Wetherington said the law does not cover resignation en masse.

If the present board quits, Little Rock voters could elect a new slate at the regular school election Dec. 6.

Southern Ohio Episcopalians See Consecration of Bishop

CINCINNATI (AP)—Episcopal faithful in southern Ohio today got a chance to look in on the solemn, colorful ceremony of consecration for their new bishop-elect.

He is the Rt. Rev. Roger W. Blanchard, ordained in his new post in the age-old ceremony of consecration, rich in church tradition.

The ceremony, at Christ Episcopal Church here, was telecast through three outlets in the southern Ohio diocese—Cincinnati, Dayton and Columbus.

Bishop Blanchard, onetime football star for Boston University in the early 1930's, will automatically succeed the Rt. Rev. Henry Wise Hobson as chief pastor of the diocese when Bishop Hobson retires next spring.

The Rt. Rev. Henry Knox Sherill, presiding bishop of the Episcopal Church in the U.S., served as consecrator in the ritual.

It was one of his last official duties. Bishop Sherill will retire next Saturday after 11 years as titular head of the Episcopal Church in this country.

Bishop Blanchard will take over a diocese comprising 40,000 laymen in 80 congregations, with 100 priests and pastors.

The 48-year-old clergyman has been dean of St. John's Cathedral,

Jacksonville, Fla. Before that he served for six years as executive secretary of the college work division of the Episcopal Church's national council.

Bishop Blanchard also served as pastor of churches in Columbia, Mo.; Beverly, Mass., and Lynn, Mass.

Bishop Hobson and the Rt. Rev. Edward Hamilton West, bishop of Florida, served as co-consecrators in today's ceremonies.

The consecration ceremony began at 10 a.m. and was followed by a service of holy communion. It ended with a special prayer asking blessing on the new bishop.

Hardin County Seeks Amish School Closure

KENTON, Ohio (AP)—The Hardin County School Board has asked Common Pleas Court to enjoin two Amish schools from operating on grounds they do not comply with minimum state standards.

Named as defendants in the suit are 39 Amish men who are parents of the children attending the schools.

Carol Faulkner, assistant county prosecutor, said the schools fail to comply with 26 of the 45 minimum standards.

She Says Busy Woman Has 'More To Give'

By DOROTHY ROE

Associated Press Women's Editor
LOS ANGELES (AP)—The working mother need have no feelings of guilt toward her children—she's often a better mother than the one who stays home all day.

This is the opinion of Margit Fellegi, one of the world's busiest women. She has been designing bathing suits for 23 years while raising four children and being a proud and devoted wife to the late Aladar Laslo, well-known writer who died six weeks ago.

"I believe with all my heart that the woman who is busy and active has more to give her children than the mother who limits her horizons to the four walls of her home. She is able to inspire them with more ideas, to offer more stimulating companionship," Margit says.

Margit's children are Peter, 16, a freshman at California Institute of Technology; Vicki, 15, a student at Beverly High School who often models her mother's swim suits; Winston, 13; and Larry, 10.

I talked with this designer on the opening day of the week of press showings by California fashion creators. Her designs for this year include some daring Bikini suits, many light-hearted Bangkok styles and everywhere high colors and sleek lines, as modern as tomorrow's newspaper.

Margit was born in St. Louis and started out to be a dancer, then came to California with her artist father, Emil Fellegi, and opened a custom dressmaking salon in Beverly Hills, specializing in theatrical costumes.

Bricker Scotches Report O'Neill Due For Judgeship

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—U. S. Sen. John W. Bricker (R-Ohio) today scotched published reports that Gov. C. William O'Neill is being considered for a federal judgeship.

There were reports in Cincinnati that O'Neill is making a bid for a vacant seat on the U.S. District Court of Appeals in Southern Ohio. These appointments usually are cleared by the White House through the senator whose party affiliation is the same as that of the President.

Bricker said he discussed the vacancy with the U.S. attorney general's office and was informed the vacancy probably will not be filled until the first of the year. The senator said to his knowledge O'Neill is not under consideration.

The World Today

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — New civil rights legislation was not in the 12-point program proposed by the Democrats' Senate leader—Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas—for the new Congress starting in January.

But it seems certain some kind of civil rights legislation will be offered, particularly since the Northern and Western advocates of civil rights among the Democrats have been strengthened by this month's elections.

A preliminary effort may come in January, in a move to make it easier to smash the filibuster. That is the weapon used repeatedly by Southern Democrats to block civil rights bills.

Leading in this fight will be senators of both parties — Douglas (D-Ill.), Humphrey (D-Minn.), Javits (R-N.Y.) and Case (R-N.J.). Any fight they make will have tough going. Southerners have already promised that.

To make it easier to cut off a filibuster requires a change in the Senate rules.

The last time the effort was made to do this — in 1957 — Southerners were able to block it with the help of six Northern Democrats and 28 Republicans. In short, the Republicans were the main support of the Southerners.

But in the Senate just ended the Republicans had 47 seats to the Democrats' 49. The recent elections cut the Republican seats to 34 and boosted the Democrats' to 62.

Thus, while the total of Southern Democratic seats remains unchanged, the number of Republicans who might have lined up with them in 1959 has been drastically reduced and their seats taken by Northern and Western Democrats.

The result: The power of the South to fight a change in the filibuster rule has been greatly weakened.

Even if the filibuster rule isn't changed, that doesn't necessarily mean there won't be new civil rights legislation.

A major civil rights bill was passed in 1957, despite the defeat that year of efforts to limit the filibuster.

The legislation went through under the leadership of Johnson who — by what seemed a legislative miracle — was able to get it done without any major filibuster attempt by the South.

It was not the kind of bill which satisfied all the advocates of civil rights by any means. But getting it through, without a Southern filibuster, was evidence Southerners knew some such legislation was inevitable.

It was also a foot in the door, opening the way for more legislation of the same kind later.

Both parties — highly sensitive to the importance of the vote of minority groups in the North — will hardly dare face the voters in 1960 without some record of civil rights legislation in these next two years.

The leadership in both parties may think it politically wiser to postpone such legislation until 1960. The voters, going to the polls in November of that year, then would have a fresher memory of what had been done.

But recent bombings in the South — against Jews and Negroes — give added ammunition to advocates of more power for the federal government to move against violations of civil rights.

Editor Hits Wholesale Rap Levelled Against Public School

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Magazine editor Herbert L. Brown Jr., today denounced wholesale criticism of the American public school system. He said American communities get just about the kind of education they are willing to work for.

"Our schools now deserve a reprieve," Brown said, "a reprieve from wholesale attack by irresponsible, extremists, cynics and loud mouths . . . Let's stop attacking the schools and start attacking problems."

Brown, managing editor of Changing Times, addressed a meeting of the Ohio School Boards Assn.

Brown said the United States must never abandon the ideal of educating all children both the intellectually elite and the average student.

"Our job," Brown said, "is to help make the ideal of universal education realizable. The job begins with facing the unflattering fact that defects in our public schools cannot reasonably be attributed to our educators."

Indifferent citizens who scorn the values of education and ignore their schools are responsible for the defects in a school system, Brown said.

He added that the cost of education along with everything else is going up. And "if we believe in the values of a product, we must be willing to pay its price."

Dr. James B. Conant, former president of Harvard University, told the convention Tuesday that an analysis of high schools in the United States showed there is no need for radical changes in the basic pattern of American education but a great deal of room for improvement.

Dr. Conant said the general high school should teach courses in general subjects such as English, history and science, but should also offer vocational training courses and special academic electives for brighter students.

But such broad programs are possible only in the larger schools, Dr. Conant said. "If the school has a graduating class of much less than 100, it is difficult, if not impossible, in my opinion, for the school to provide a satisfactory education."

At the press conference, he also suggested the UN take Formosa under its wing for at least 10 years and let Formosans ballot on the form of government they want.

He repeated an old theme—that Red China should be admitted to the UN. He said, "It's not much good expecting people to obey orders of a club if you don't let them belong."

Attlee Urges Interest in World Politics

CINCINNATI (AP)—Lord Clement Attlee says he thinks western nations had better learn to heed the counsel of others—communists included.

The post war laborite leader of Great Britain warned that the masses of people should become "as interested in world politics as they are in a football game."

He said, "No longer can we make a nice heaven for ourselves and leave hell outside."

The 75-year-old laborite peer's views came out here Tuesday, at a press conference and an evening address to General Electric Co. executives.

Attlee said he'd like to see the veto power dropped from the United Nations. And he added the UN should create its own world police force, to step in where trouble flares.

He told the GE group that this means some infringement on the sovereignty of western nations—including giving up the right to make war.

Attlee said it is plain that today "you can't lay down Queensbury rules of warfare. You can't say no hitting below the belt."

At the press conference, he also suggested the UN take Formosa under its wing for at least 10 years and let Formosans ballot on the form of government they want.

He repeated an old theme—that Red China should be admitted to the UN. He said, "It's not much good expecting people to obey orders of a club if you don't let them belong."

Charles Taft To Head Anti-Bigotry Group

WASHINGTON (AP) — Charles P. Taft of Cincinnati has been named a co-chairman of an organization called "Americans Against Bombs of Bigotry." Formation of the national committee to mobilize public opinion against bombings of schools and churches was announced here Tuesday. Co-chairman with Taft will be Gov. Edmund G. (Pat) Brown of California.

Foreign Aid Expansion Said Vital Need

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Movie head Eric Johnston says the United States must expand its foreign aid program to counter the Soviet threat of economic assistance to the underdeveloped areas of the world.

"We must seize the initiative and keep it," Johnston said. "I am tired of all the talk about stopping communism. I think we need a program of action on the international economic front that will make the communists worry about stopping us."

Johnston, who is chairman of the Committee for International Economic Growth as well as president of the Motion Picture Assn. of America, outlined a three-point program for broadened economic aid in a speech Tuesday night before the 40th annual convention of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation.

Johnston said the United States should (1) increase the amount spent on foreign assistance currently running at 3.3 billion dollars a year; (2) make available to the development loan fund at least one billion dollars a year for foreign assistance; and (3) make available to the impoverished nations of the world our vast food surpluses.

"In a world where more than a billion people subsist on a starvation diet all the days of their lives, there is something downright immoral about keeping our own abundance stashed away in warehouses," Johnston said.

Johnston also said that since the inception of the Development Loan Fund in 1957, Congress has given it 700 million dollars with which to make long-term low interest loans. Johnston termed this amount "clearly inadequate" in view of applications by 45 countries for loans totaling 2.6 billion dollars.

26 East Liverpool City Aides Due for Layoff

EAST LIVERPOOL (AP) — Twenty-six city employees are expected to be furloughed next Monday because voters repealed an 8-mill city income tax Nov. 4. Expected to be dismissed because of a shortage of funds are nine policemen, three firemen, 10 school crossing guards, a dog warden and three street department employees. Voters also approved issues called for refund of income tax money and prohibition of future income taxes. But Joseph W. Cooper, city solicitor, declared those initiative ordinances unconstitutional.

Ohioan Is Formally Accused of Murder

TAVARES, Fla. (AP)—Charles Hixon, 44, of Ironton, Ohio, has been charged with first-degree murder in the death of his wife, Mrs. Lucille Hixon, 36. Sheriff Willis McCall, who filed the charges against Hixon, said Hixon shot his estranged wife Monday after she refused a reconciliation. A staff physician at the Athens, Ohio, State Hospital said Hixon was a mental patient there and had escaped last July 17, two months after being committed.

The World Today

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — New civil rights legislation was not in the 12-point program proposed by the Democrats' Senate leader—Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas—for the new Congress starting in January.

But it seems certain some kind of civil rights legislation will be offered, particularly since the Northern and Western advocates of civil rights among the Democrats have been strengthened by this month's elections.

A preliminary effort may come in January, in a move to make it easier to smash the filibuster. That is the weapon used repeatedly by Southern Democrats to block civil rights bills.

Leading in this fight will be Senators of both parties — Douglas (D-Ill.), Humphrey (D-Minn.), Javits (R-N.Y.) and Case (R-N.J.). Any fight they make will have tough going. Southerners have already promised that.

To make it easier to cut off a filibuster requires a change in the Senate rules.

The last time the effort was made to do this — in 1957—Southerners were able to block it with the help of six Northern Democrats and 28 Republicans. In short, the Republicans were the main support of the Southerners.

But in the Senate just ended the Republicans had 47 seats to the Democrats' 49. The recent elections cut the Republican seats to 34 and boosted the Democrats' to 62.

Thus, while the total of Southern Democratic seats remains unchanged, the number of Republicans who might have lined up with them in 1959 has been drastically reduced and their seats taken by Northern and Western Democrats.

The result: The power of the South to fight a change in the filibuster rule has been greatly weakened.

Even if the filibuster rule isn't changed, that doesn't necessarily mean there won't be new civil rights legislation.

A major civil rights bill was passed in 1957, despite the defeat that year of efforts to limit the filibuster.

The legislation went through under the leadership of Johnson who—by what seemed a legislative miracle—was able to get it done without any major filibuster attempt by the South.

It was not the kind of bill which satisfied all the advocates of civil rights by any means. But getting it through, without a Southern filibuster, was evidence Southerners knew some such legislation was inevitable.

It was also a foot in the door, opening the way for more legislation of the same kind later.

Both parties — highly sensitive to the importance of the vote of minority groups in the North — will hardly dare face the voters in 1960 without some record of civil rights legislation in these next two years.

The leadership in both parties may think it politically wiser to postpone such legislation until 1960. The voters, going to the polls in November of that year, then would have a fresher memory of what had been done.

But recent bombings in the South — against Jews and Negroes — give added ammunition to advocates of more power for the federal government to move against violations of civil rights.

Foreign Aid Expansion Said Vital Need

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Movie head Eric Johnston says the United States must expand its foreign aid program to counter the Soviet threat of economic assistance to the underdeveloped areas of the world.

"We must seize the initiative and keep it," Johnston said. "I am tired of all the talk about stopping communism. I think we need a program of action on the international economic front that will make the communists worry about stopping us."

Johnston, who is chairman of the Committee for International Economic Growth as well as president of the Motion Picture Assn. of America, outlined a three-point program for broadened economic aid in a speech Tuesday night before the 40th annual convention of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation.

Johnston said the United States should (1) increase the amount spent on foreign assistance currently running at 3.3 billion dollars a year; (2) make available to the development loan fund at least one billion dollars a year for foreign assistance, and (3) make available to the impoverished nations of the world our vast food surpluses.

"In a world where more than a billion people subsist on a starvation diet all the days of their lives, there is something downright immoral about keeping our own abundance stashed away in warehouses," Johnston said.

Johnston also said that since the inception of the Development Loan Fund in 1957, Congress has given it 700 million dollars with which to make long-term low interest loans. Johnston termed this amount "clearly inadequate" in view of applications by 45 countries for loans totaling 2.6 billion dollars.

Editor Hits Wholesale Rap Leveled Against Public School

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Magazine editor Herbert L. Brown Jr., today denounced wholesale criticism of the American public school system. He said American communities get just about the kind of education they are willing to work for.

"Our schools now deserve a reprieve," Brown said, "a reprieve from wholesale attack by irresponsible, extremists, cynics and loud mouths. . . . Let's stop attacking the schools and start attacking problems."

Brown, managing editor of Changing Times, addressed a meeting of the Ohio School Boards Assn.

Brown said the United States must never abandon the ideal of educating all children both the intellectually elite and the average student.

"Our job," Brown said, "is to help make the ideal of universal education realizable. The job begins with facing the unflattering fact that defects in our public schools cannot reasonably be attributed to our educators."

Indifferent citizens who scorn the values of education and ignore their schools are responsible for the defects in a school system, Brown said.

He added that the cost of education along with everything else is going up. And "if we believe in the values of a product, we must be willing to pay its price."

Dr. James B. Conant, former president of Harvard University, told the convention Tuesday that an analysis of high schools in the United States showed there is no need for radical changes in the basic pattern of American education but a great deal of room for improvement.

Dr. Conant said the general high school should teach courses in general subjects such as English, history and science, but should also offer vocational training courses and special academic electives for brighter students.

But such broad programs are possible only in the larger schools, Dr. Conant said. "If the school has a graduating class of much less than 100, it is difficult, if not impossible, in my opinion, for the school to provide a satisfactory education."

Truck Hits Scaffold, 4 Painters Injured

MEDINA, Ohio (AP) — Four painters were in Lodi Community Hospital today with injuries received when a truck struck the rigging of their scaffolding and they fell 20 feet. The accident occurred Tuesday at nearby Lodi where the four were working on a North - South Freeway overpass. Reported in fair condition were David Walker, 27, of Mansfield; Joseph White, 28, of Massillon; Chris Karasidites, 25, and Steve Houmlis, 25, both of Canton.

Attlee Urges Interest in World Politics

CINCINNATI (AP)—Lord Clement Attlee says he thinks western nations had better learn to heed the counsel of others—communists included.

The post war laborite leader of Great Britain warned that the masses of people should become "as interested in world politics as they are in a football game."

He said, "No longer can we make a nice heaven for ourselves and leave hell outside."

The 75-year-old laborite peer's views came out here Tuesday, at a press conference and an evening address to General Electric Co. executives.

Attlee said he'd like to see the veto power dropped from the United Nations. And he added the UN should create its own world police force, to step in where trouble flares.

He told the GE group that this means some infringement on the sovereignty of western nations—including giving up the right to make war.

Attlee said it is plain that today "you can't lay down Queensbury rules of warfare. You can't say no hitting below the belt."

At the press conference, he also suggested the UN take Formosa under its wing for at least 10 years and let Formosans ballot on the form of government they want.

He repeated an old theme—that Red China should be admitted to the UN. He said, "It's not much good expecting people to obey orders of a club if you don't let them belong."

Charles Taft To Head Anti-Bigotry Group

WASHINGTON (AP) — Charles P. Taft of Cincinnati has been named a co-chairman of an organization called "Americans Against Bombs of Bigotry." Formation of the national committee to mobilize public opinion against bombings of schools and churches was announced here Tuesday. Co-chairman with Taft will be Governor Edmund G. (Pat) Brown of California.

AP Guesspert Picks Iowa To Slip Past OSU

LSU, Army, Auburn Also Given Nod To Continue Winning

By HAROLD CLAASSEN

Associated Press Sports Writer NEW YORK (AP)—Armistice Day? The firing at this veteran football forecaster apparently will never cease just because Pittsburgh last Saturday spoiled his blueplate specialty by winning in the final 11 seconds.

It was one of 12 incorrect picks among the 49 decisions.

Naming the coming weekend's winners while digging the foxhole a full foot deeper:

LSU over Mississippi State: How you gonna beat a team that has a cannon for its major weapon? That's Billy Cannon, of course.

Iowa over Ohio State: The Buckeyes are enraged, the Hawkeyes are engaged—to play in the Rose Bowl Jan. 1. The Iowans to stop celebrating just long enough to win in a squeaker.

Army over Villanova: Even if the Cadet varsity is back in good health the subs will get a good workout here.

Auburn over Georgia: The Plainsmen finally have an offense to go with their vaunted defense.

Wisconsin over Illinois: The Badgers walloped Purdue 31-6 and Purdue in turn walloped Illinois 31-8.

Oklahoma over Missouri: The Sooners make certain of another trip to Miami's Orange Bowl. Too many sophomores in the Missouri backfield.

Mississippi over Tennessee: The Volunteers have no answer for Bobby Franklin's passing.

Northwestern over Purdue: Burton, Thornton & Co., put on a show for the home folks.

Texas Christian over Texas: The Frogs have given up only 40 points in seven games and have lost only to Iowa en route to Cotton Bowl consideration.

Air Force over Wyoming: That Falcon kick carries on.

Notre Dame over North Carolina: The Tarheel's six-game winning streak is broken by George Izo's passes.

Syracuse over Colgate: The Orange will pile up a score in hopes of rating a bowl bid.

Pittsburgh over Nebraska: Those Cornhuskers get shocked again.

Washington over California: The Bears' Rose Bowl ambitions suffer a slight derailment.

Once over lightly:

FRIDAY

Maryland over Miami (N)

SATURDAY

EAST: Boston College over Boston University, Cornell over Dartmouth, Delaware over Bucknell, Amherst over Williams, Harvard over Brown, Penn State over Holy Cross, Penn over Columbia, Princeton over Yale, Rutgers over Quantic.

SOUTH: Virginia Military over The Citadel, Davidson over Richmond, Florida over Arkansas State, Navy over George Washington, Georgia Tech over Alabama, Kentucky over Xavier, Mississippi Southern over Virginia Tech, Clemson over North Carolina State, South Carolina over Virginia, Tulane over Vanderbilt, Duke over Wake Forest, West Virginia over William & Mary.

MIDWEST: Wichita over Drake, Iowa State over Kansas State, Cincinnati over Marquette, Michigan over Indiana, Michigan State over Minnesota, Oklahoma State over Kansas, Tulsa over Texas Tech.

SOUTHWEST: Southern Methodist over Arkansas, Houston over North Texas State, Rice over Texas A & M, Texas Western over Arizona.

FAR WEST: Brigham Young over Denver, Idaho over Utah State, Montana State over Montana, Washington State over College of Pacific, Oregon State over Stanford, Oregon over UCLA, Colorado over Utah.

Seniors Peter Close of Manchester, Conn., and Jack Carew of Roslyn, N. Y., are co-captains of the strong St. John's University cross-country team in Brooklyn.

35 Major Teams Get Eye For Post-Season Bowl Bids

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The list of teams with post-season bowl hopes grows by the day.

So does the speculation as to which team is going where.

So far, 35 major college teams have been mentioned as likely participants in post-season games, the newest of which is the Blue Grass Festival Dec. 13 in Louisville, Ky. The others are the Rose, Sugar, Cotton, Orange, Gator and Tangerine bowls.

Iowa is the only team to be sure of a bowl game, as it plays the winner of the Pacific Coast Conference in the Rose Bowl New Year's Day. The Hawkeyes won the Big Ten title last Saturday.

Louisiana State, the nation's No. 1 team, is next in line for a berth. The Bayou Bengals, with an 8-0 record, need only a victory over Mississippi State this Saturday to sew up the Southeastern Conference title and the Sugar Bowl host spot.

Oklahoma and Missouri meet Saturday in Norman, Okla., for the Big Eight Conference title and an Orange Bowl spot. Though Oklahoma is the defending Orange Bowl champ, it can go back this year under terms of a special agreement.

The other automatic is the Southwest Conference titlist playing host in the Cotton Bowl. It is between Rice and Texas Christian. They are tied for the conference lead, but with three SWC games remaining, and a Nov. 22 date with each other.

Iowa's opponent will probably be California (5-3) though Oregon State (5-3), Washington State (5-3) and Southern California (4-4) still have an outside chance to slip in.

The Sugar Bowl lists North Carolina (6-2) as a top probable. However, Eastern Independent Pitt (5-2-1) with no Negroes on its squad to interfere with Louisiana's segregation law, is a prospect, as is Rice (4-3) and TCU (6-1). Southern Methodist (4-3) has been mentioned also.

LSU also has been mentioned for the Orange Bowl, along with SEC partner Mississippi (7-1).

Jimmy Brown Finds Defense Grows Tough

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—There is an old saying in football that the last few yards are the toughest. Cleveland's Jimmy Brown is finding that out.

Ripping along toward a new seasonal National Football League ground gaining record through the first five games of the season, Brown is finding the going much rougher. Last Sunday as Cleveland suffered its second straight defeat, he was held to 83 yards by the Detroit Lions, a far cry from his 144 yard per game norm.

Things may get even rougher for the former Syracuse ace as he and the Cleveland club head into the home stretch of the NFL season. The Browns are tied with the New York Giants for first place. Opposing clubs certainly will be shoring their defenses for the hard running back.

With five games to go, Brown has gained 1,011 yards on 152 carries for a 6.7 yard average. He's within 135 yards of the 1949 record set by the Philadelphia Eagles' Steve Van Buren. Brown failed to score Sunday, but his 15 touchdowns still are in range of Van Buren's mark of 18 in one season.

Second in ground gaining is Brown's Cleveland teammate, Bob Mitchell who has 518 yards in 75 attempts for a 6.9 average. Jon Arnett, Los Angeles rookie, ranks third with 448 yards on 76 carries, followed by Joe Perry, San Francisco, 443 on 74 attempts.

Army, Navy Top Nation In Passing

NEW YORK (AP)—Navy and Army are the top passing teams in the nation and nobody knows it better than Maryland and Rice.

Navy took over the major college passing lead with a flurry of activity by Jim Maxfield, sub quarterback, in a 40-14 romp over Maryland.

Army struck on a 64-yard touchdown pass from Joe Caldwell to Pete Dawkins with only 32 seconds left for a 14-7 edge over Rice.

According to the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau, it is the first time the service rivals ever have led the nation in passing.

Iowa continued its step-by-step march by taking over the lead in total offense while moving into the Rose Bowl on a smashing victory over Minnesota. The Big Ten champs have gained 2,770 yards averaging 395.7 a game. They barely edged Army, which has 2,751 yards and a 393-yard average. The Cadets were held to 100 yards rushing by Rice, but cut loose for 201 in the air.

Navy boosted its leading passing total 1,196 yards, with 212 against Maryland. The Middies average 170.9 yards a game on passing. Second-place Army has 1,189 and a 169.9 average. The difference is one yard a game as each has played seven.

Three weeks ago Navy wasn't even among the top 10 in passing.

Laurelville Downed 63-54

The Laurelville Wildcats suffered a lapse of scoring in the third quarter and went down to their second straight defeat at the hands of Coaltion, 63-54, in a non-league contest last night.

The Wildcats were held to four points in the third quarter, while their opponents racked up nine to maintain their lead for victory. It was 14-14 at the end of the first period, but Coaltion took a 35-26 halftime lead.

The Wildcats rallied in the final period, outscoring Coaltion 24-19, but the rally fell short. A definite handicap to the Laurelville attack was the loss of center Mickey Young and another starter early in the second half.

Young, averaging 22 points a game, was able to garner only eight before leaving the game. Top man for the evening was J. Tipton with 28 points on drive-ins.

Leading the Wildcat scoring was Bill Smith with 13 and Tommy Wiggins with 12. A total of 48 personal fouls were called during the contest.

The Coaltion reserves completed the evening's sweep with a 42-16 victory over the Laurelville junior varsity.

Celtic 'Wounded' Set Victory Pace

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Boston Celtics could be called the walking wounded, but they looked mighty healthy to the Minneapolis Lakers Tuesday night.

Bob Cousy, nursing a painful foot injury, and Bill Russell, playing with an injured ankle, sparked the Celts to a 116-113 overtime victory over the Lakers. It was the only game played in the National Basketball Assn.

Cousy, used sparingly in Boston's last two games, collected seven points in the overtime period. He finished with 15 points and had 14 assists.

Now the Middies have 12 touchdowns throws and a .580 completion percentage.

SEC Commissioner Bernie Moore has been asked to canvas both schools as to their feelings about playing a team (Oklahoma) with a Negro on the squad.

Georgia Tech (5-2-1) is an Orange Bowl probable while reports circulating near West Point have Army (6-0-1) going to the Orange Bowl if it wins its remaining games. Coach Earl Blaik denies this.

Clemson (5-2) has been mentioned for the Orange Bowl along with TCU, Rice, Pitt and Syracuse.

The Air Force Academy (6-0-1), the year's Cinderella team, is on the list as a Cotton Bowl probable, as is Army, though the Cadets will most likely overlook this one since they played in the Southwest—beating Rice 14-7 last week—already this year.

LSU, North Carolina, Pitt, Syracuse, and Mississippi are also listed as probable.

The Gator Bowl will pick both participants from the flock of available. This means North Carolina, Pitt, Syracuse, Georgia Tech and Boston College (5-2) are the hot prospects here.

The Tangerine Bowl is a Dec. 27 affair that will be televised nationally, though the details still are to be worked out. It is considering Rutgers (8-0), Florida State (7-2), Oklahoma State (6-2), Villanova (6-2), Virginia Tech (4-3-1), Tulsa (5-3) Mississippi Southern (7-0) Arizona State (Flagstaff) (5-3) and North Texas State (5-2-1).

The Blue Grass affair has an ambitious program lined up with the aforementioned top bowl probabilities along with Alabama (3-3-1), Vanderbilt (4-1-3), Kentucky (3-4-1) and Florida (3-3-1).

Cupp Visits Son; Views Grid Game

Harry J. Cupp, Route 2, last weekend visited his son, Carl of Carey, where he teaches high school agriculture and coaches football.

During his visit, Cupp witnessed Carey's final game of the year, a 44-0 rout of Upper Sandusky. Cupp, who has been teaching for five years and coaching three, finished the season with an 8-1 record.

Atlanta Chalks Second Win In 75-36 Good Hope Contest

Atlanta's Red Raiders won their second cage test in three starts last night by posting a decisive 75-36 decision over visiting Good Hope.

Raider Ronnie Morris opened the gate for Atlanta with a whopping 35 points, just one less than the entire Good Hope team was able to score.

Atlanta was never in trouble, leading 16-4 at the first quarter mark and 37-15 at intermission. Coach Jim Shaw's crew continued its deadly accuracy in the third frame to push on ahead, 57-24.

The winner's relentless attack

McCormack Back With Browns' '11'

CLEVELAND (AP)—Mike McCormack, out for three weeks with a knee injury, is ready for action again. Coach Paul Brown hopes the big offensive tackle will help get the Cleveland Browns back on the winning trail.

"He may help us to snap out of this flinches we've been in," Brown declared. The Browns have had little offensive punch the last two games.

McCormack was injured in the Oct. 19 game against Pittsburgh. "Not only is Mike as good as any offensive tackle in the league, but he's also a leader," the coach said.

Three Cage Tests Set at Coliseum

Three more Circleville Industrial League basketball games are scheduled tomorrow night at the Pickaway County Fairgrounds coliseum.

The second week of action features Kirk Furniture vs. Veterans of Foreign Wars, Williamsport vs. Ashville and Yingling Hybrids vs. River Oil.

The first game is scheduled to start at about 7 p. m.

CHS Cagers Open Season Nov. 28

Circleville High School's 1958-59 basketball squad opens an 18-game schedule November 28 with a trip to Athens.

The following Friday CHS opens the home season with Franklin Heights in a South Central Ohio League battle. On Saturday the Tigers will travel to Chillicothe for their third game of the season.

This year's Tiger cage edition will be under the guidance of Dick Snouffer, new head coach. Snouffer succeeds Dick Boyd who accepted the head basketball coaching job at Warren.

Circleville's schedule lists eight home games and 10 on the road. Five contests this year will be played on Saturday nights.

COACH Snouffer said several of his prospective cagers already have started practice. CHS athletes who participated in football are slated to report for drills today.

Coach Snouffer will be assisted by John Current, reserve coach. Jack Weikert will work as junior high mentor.

Tiger varsity home games will start at about 8 p. m. in the spacious E. Mill St. gym. Reserve contests are slated to begin at 7 p. m.

Coach Snouffer will face a rebuilding task in his first year here. Gone are the familiar faces of Bill Johnson, Jon

Parcher, Mike Hosler, Dick Smith and John Wright, all regulars of last year's varsity.

However, the cage picture should be brightened by the return of such stalwarts as Don Rowland, Walt Arledge, Asa Elson and a crop of promising juniors from last year's reserve squad. Included on the junior list are Bob Shadley, Larry Hannahs and Arch Ward. Snouffer indicated that daily practices will be held until the November 28 opener.

Here is the schedule:

AP Guesspert Picks Iowa To Slip Past OSU

LSU, Army, Auburn Also Given Nod To Continue Winning

By HAROLD CLAASSEN

Associated Press Sports Writer NEW YORK (AP)—Armistice Day? The firing at this veteran football forecaster apparently will never cease just because Pittsburgh last Saturday spoiled his blueplate specialty by winning in the final 11 seconds.

It was one of 12 incorrect picks among the 49 decisions.

Naming the coming weekend's winners while digging the foxhole a full foot deeper.

LSU over Mississippi State: How you gonna beat a team that has a cannon for its major weapon? That's Billy Cannon, of course.

Iowa over Ohio State: The Buckeyes are enraged, the Hawkeyes are engaged—to play in the Rose Bowl Jan. 1. The Iowans to stop celebrating just long enough to win in a squeaker.

Army over Villanova: Even if the Cadet varsity is back in good health the subs will get a good workout here.

Auburn over Georgia: The Plainsmen finally have an offense to go with their vaunted defense. Wisconsin over Illinois: The Badgers walloped Purdue 31-6 and Purdue in turn walloped Illinois 31-8.

Oklahoma over Missouri: The Sooners make certain of another trip to Miami's Orange Bowl. Too many sophomores in the Missouri backfield.

Mississippi over Tennessee: The Volunteers have no answer for Bobby Franklin's passing.

Northwestern over Purdue: Burton, Thornton & Co., put on a show for the home folks.

Texas Christian over Texas: The Frogs have given up only 40 points in seven games and have lost only to Iowa en route to Cotton Bowl consideration.

Air Force over Wyoming: That Falcon luck carries on.

Notre Dame over North Carolina: The Tarheel's six-game winning streak is broken by George Izo's passes.

Syracuse over Colgate: The Orange will pile up a score in hopes of rating a bowl bid. Pittsburgh over Nebraska: Those Cornhuskers get shocked again.

Washington over California: The Bears' Rose Bowl ambitions suffer a slight derailment.

Once over lightly:

FRIDAY

SATURDAY

EAST: Boston College over Boston University, Cornell over Dartmouth, Delaware over Bucknell, Amherst over Williams, Harvard over Brown, Penn State over Holy Cross, Penn over Columbia, Princeton over Yale, Rutgers over Quantico.

SOUTH: Virginia Military over The Citadel, Davidson over Richmond, Florida over Arkansas State, Navy over George Washington, Georgia Tech over Alabama, Kentucky over Xavier, Mississippi Southern over Virginia Tech, Clemson over North Carolina State, South Carolina over Virginia, Tulane over Vanderbilt, Duke over Wake Forest, West Virginia over William & Mary.

MIDWEST: Wichita over Drake, Iowa State over Kansas State, Cincinnati over Marquette, Michigan over Indiana, Michigan State over Minnesota, Oklahoma State over Kansas, Tulsa over Texas Tech.

SOUTHWEST: Southern Methodist over Arkansas, Houston over North Texas State, Rice over Texas A & M, Texas Western over Arizona.

FAR WEST: Brigham Young over Denver, Idaho over Utah State, Montana State over Montana, Washington State over College of Pacific, Oregon State over Stanford, Oregon over UCLA, Colorado over Utah.

Seniors Peter Close of Manchester, Conn., and Jack Carew of Roslyn, N. Y., are co-captains of the strong St. John's University cross-country team in Brooklyn.

35 Major Teams Get Eye For Post-Season Bowl Bids

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The list of teams with post-season bowl hopes grows by the day.

So does the speculation as to which team is going where. So far, 35 major college teams have been mentioned as likely participants in post-season games, the newest of which is the Blue Grass Festival Dec. 13 in Louisville, Ky. The others are the Rose, Sugar, Cotton, Orange, Gator and Tangerine bowls.

Iowa is the only team to be sure of a bowl game, as it plays the winner of the Pacific Coast Conference in the Rose Bowl New Year's Day. The Hawkeyes won the Big Ten title last Saturday. Louisiana State, the nation's No. 1 team, is next in line for a berth. The Bayou Bengals, with an 8-0

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—There is an old saying in football that the last few yards are the toughest. Cleveland's Jimmy Brown is finding that out.

Ripping along toward a new seasonal National Football League ground gaining record through the first five games of the season, Brown is finding the going much rougher. Last Sunday as Cleveland suffered its second straight defeat, he was held to 83 yards by the Detroit Lions, a far cry from his 144 yard per game norm.

Things may get even rougher for the former Syracuse ace as he and the Cleveland club head into the home stretch of the NFL season. The Browns are tied with the New York Giants for first place. Opposing clubs certainly will be shoring their defenses for the hard running back.

With five games to go, Brown has gained 1,011 yards on 152 carries for a 6.7 yard average. He's within 135 yards of the 1949 record set by the Philadelphia Eagles' Steve Van Buren. Brown failed to score Sunday, but his 15 touchdowns still are in range of Van Buren's mark of 18 in one season.

Second in ground gaining is Brown's Cleveland teammate, Bob Mitchell who has 518 yards in 75 attempts for a 6.9 average. Jon Arnett, Los Angeles rookie, ranks third with 448 yards on 76 carries, followed by Joe Perry, San Francisco, 443 on 74 attempts.

Army, Navy Top Nation In Passing

NEW YORK (AP)—Navy and Army are the top passing teams in the nation and nobody knows it better than Maryland and Rice.

Navy took over the major college passing lead with a flurry of activity by Jim Maxfield, sophomore quarterback, in a 40-14 romp over Maryland.

Army struck on a 64-yard touchdown pass from Joe Caldwell to Pete Dawkins with only 32 seconds left for a 14-7 edge over Rice.

According to the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau, it is the first time the service rivals ever have led the nation in passing.

Iowa continued its step-by-step march by taking over the lead in total offense while moving into the Rose Bowl on a smashing victory over Minnesota. The Big Ten champs have gained 2,770 yards averaging 395.7 a game. They barely edged Army, which has 2,751 yards and a 393-yard average. The Cadets were held to 100 yards rushing by Rice, but cut loose for 201 in the air.

Navy boosted its leading passing total 1,196 yard, with 212 against Maryland. The Middles average 170.9 yards a game on passing. Second-place Army has 1,189 and a 169.9 average. The difference is one yard a game as each has played seven.

Three weeks ago Navy wasn't even among the top 10 in passing.

record, need only a victory over Mississippi State this Saturday to sew up the Southeastern Conference title and the Sugar Bowl host spot.

Oklahoma and Missouri meet Saturday in Norman, Okla., for the Big Eight Conference title and an Orange Bowl spot. Though Oklahoma is the defending Orange Bowl champ, it can go back this year under terms of a special agreement.

The other automatic is the Southwest Conference titlist playing host in the Cotton Bowl. It is between Rice and Texas Christian. They are tied for the conference lead, but with three SWC games remaining, and a Nov. 22 date with each other.

Iowa's opponent will probably be California (5-3) though Oregon State (5-3), Washington State (5-3) and Southern California (4-4) still have an outside chance to slip in.

The Sugar Bowl lists North Carolina (6-2) as a top probable. However, Eastern Independent Pitt (5-2-1) with no Negroes on its squad to interfere with Louisiana's segregation law, is a prospect, as is Rice (4-3) and TCU (6-1). Southern Methodist (4-3) has been mentioned also.

LSU also has been mentioned for the Orange Bowl, along with SEC partner Mississippi (7-1).

Laurelville Downed 63-54

The Laurelville Wildcats suffered a lapse of scoring in the third quarter and went down to their second straight defeat at the hands of Coalton, 63-54, in a non-league contest last night.

The Wildcats were held to four points in the third quarter, while their opponents racked up nine to maintain their lead for victory. It was 14-14 at the end of the first period, but Coalton took a 35-26 halftime lead.

The Wildcats rallied in the final period, outscoring Coalton 24-19, but the rally fell short. A definite handicap to the Laurelville attack was the loss of center Mickey Young and another starter early in the second half. Young, averaging 22 points a game, was able to garner only eight before leaving the game. Top man for the evening was J. Tipton with 28 points on drive-ins.

Leading the Wildcat scoring was Bill Smith with 13 and Tommy Wiggins with 12. A total of 48 personal fouls were called during the contest.

The Coalton reserves completed the evening's sweep with a 42-16 victory over the Laurelville junior varsity.

Celtic 'Wounded' Set Victory Pace

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Boston Celtics could be called the walking wounded, but they looked mighty healthy to the Minneapolis Lakers Tuesday night.

Bob Cousy, nursing a painful foot injury, and Bill Russell, playing with an injured ankle, sparked the Celts to a 116-113 overtime victory over the Lakers. It was the only game played in the National Basketball Assn.

Cousy, used sparingly in Boston's last two games, collected seven points in the overtime period. He finished with 15 points and had 14 assists.

Now the Middles have 12 touch-downs throws and a .580 completion percentage.

SEC Commissioner Bernie Moore has been asked to canvas both schools as to their feelings about playing a team (Oklahoma) with a Negro on the squad.

Georgia Tech (5-2-1) is an Orange Bowl probable while reports circulating near West Point have Army (6-0-1) going to the Orange Bowl if it wins its remaining games. Coach Earl Blaik denies this.

Clemson (5-2) has been mentioned for the Orange Bowl along with TCU, Rice, Pitt and Syracuse.

The Air Force Academy (6-0-1), the year's Cinderella team, is on the list as a Cotton Bowl probable, as is Army, though the Cadets will most likely overlook this one since they played in the Southwest—beating Rice 14-7 last week—already this year.

LSU, North Carolina, Pitt, Syracuse, and Mississippi are also listed as probables.

The Gator Bowl will pick both participants from the flock of available. This means North Carolina, Pitt, Syracuse, Georgia Tech and Boston College (5-2) are the hot prospects here.

The Tangerine Bowl is a Dec. 27 affair that will be televised nationally, though the details still are to be worked out. It is considering Rutgers (8-0), Florida State (7-2), Oklahoma State (6-2), Villanova (6-2), Virginia Tech (4-3-1), Tulsa (5-3) Mississippi Southern (7-0) Arizona State (Flagstaff) (5-3) and North Texas State (5-2-1).

The Blue Grass affair has an ambitious program lined up with the aforementioned top bowl probables along with Alabama (3-3-1), Vanderbilt (4-1-3), Kentucky (3-4-1) and Florida (3-3-1).

Cupp Visits Son; Views Grid Game

Harry J. Cupp, Route 2, last weekend visited his son, Carl of Carey, where he teaches high school agriculture and coaches football.

During his visit, Cupp witnessed Carey's final game of the year, a 44-0 rout of Upper Sandusky. Cupp, who has been teaching for five years and coaching three, finished the season with an 8-1 record.

Atlanta Chalks Second Win In 75-36 Good Hope Contest

Atlanta's Red Raiders won their second cage test in three starts last night by posting a decisive 75-36 decision over visiting Good Hope.

Raider Ronnie Morris opened the gate for Atlanta with a whopping 35 points, just one less than the entire Good Hope team was able to score.

Atlanta was never in trouble, leading 16-4 at the first quarter mark and 37-15 at intermission. Coach Jim Shaw's crew continued its deadly accuracy in the third frame to push on ahead, 57-24.

The winner's relentless attack

McCormack Back With Browns' '11'

CLEVELAND (AP)—Mike McCormack, out for three weeks with a knee injury, is ready for action again. Coach Paul Brown hopes the big offensive tackle will help get the Cleveland Browns back on the winning trail.

"He may help us to snap out of this flatness we've been in," Brown declared. The Browns have had little offensive punch the last two games.

McCormack was injured in the Oct. 19 game against Pittsburgh. "Not only is Mike as good as any offensive tackle in the league, but he's also a leader," the coach said.

Three Cage Tests Set at Coliseum

Three more Circleville Industrial League basketball games are scheduled tomorrow night at the Pick-away County Fairgrounds coliseum.

The second week of action features Kirk Furniture vs. Veterans of Foreign Wars, Williamsport vs. Ashville and Yingling Hybrids vs. River Oil.

The first game is scheduled to start at about 7 p. m.

CHS Cagers Open Season Nov. 28

Circleville High School's 1958-59 basketball squad opens an 18-game schedule November 28 with a trip to Athens.

The following Friday CHS opens the home season with Franklin Heights in a South Central Ohio League battle. On Saturday the Tigers will travel to Chillicothe for their third game of the season.

This year's Tiger cage edition will be under the guidance of Dick Snouffer, new head coach. Snouffer succeeds Dick Boyd who accepted the head basketball coaching job at Warren.

Circleville's schedule lists eight home games and 10 on the road. Five contests this year will be played on Saturday nights.

COACH Snouffer said several of his prospective cagers already have started practice. CHS athletes who participated in football are slated to report for drills today.

Coach Snouffer will be assisted by John Current, reserve coach. Jack Weikert will work as junior high mentor.

Tiger varsity home games will start at about 8 p. m. in the spacious E. Mill St. gym. Reserve contests are slated to begin at 7 p. m.

Coach Snouffer will face a rebuilding task in his first year here. Gone are the familiar faces of Bill Johnson, Jon

Dick Shulsen, Notre Dame senior guard, won the university heavy-weight boxing title last spring.

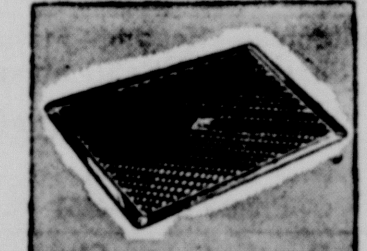

Parcher, Mike Hosler, Dick Smith and John Wright, all regulars of last year's varsity.

However, the cage picture should be brightened by the return of such stalwarts as Don Rowland, Walt Arledge, Asa Elisea and a crop of promising juniors from last year's reserve squad. Included on the junior list are Bob Shadley, Larry Hannahs and Arch Ward.

Snouffer indicated that daily practices will be held until the November 28 opener.

Here is the schedule:

Queen Mother's Selection Wins International Race

LAUREL, Md. (AP) — Queen Mother Elizabeth of England once waited nervously to find out if Sailor's Guide had won a horse race. The whole world was wondering Tuesday who had triumphed in the $100,000 Washington, D.C., International.

Both times there was a foul. And both times Sailor's Guide was on the right side of protests.

Earlier this year, at Melbourne's Flemington track, a foul was claimed against the first place finish of Sailor's Guide in the Queen Elizabeth Stakes. The Queen Mother reportedly had a $40 bet on the Sailor.

She cashed it when the foul was disallowed.

In the International, the circumstances were reversed. Tudor Era had a 3 1/2-length margin over

Sailor's Guide at the end of the mile and half grass race.

But the Sailor's jockey, Howard Grant, protested he had been bumped by Tudor Era, an English bred owned by Mrs. Herbert Herff of Memphis, Tenn.

There was a tense 20-minute delay while officials studied films of the first foul lodged in seven runnings of the International. They ruled in favor of Sailor's Guide. The disqualification was the climactic turn in a series of twists in the race which holds a unique position in the turf sport.

The third place finish of Ballymoss was one of them. John McShain of Philadelphia had brought him over for one last race so fellow Americans could see the most highly prized horse out of Ireland in years.

Ballymoss had won his last four times in England and France and was valued at more than a million dollars. But he never was in contention in the International.

Russia's first two thoroughbreds ran, but not enough. In their first appearance outside the Iron Curtain, Zaryad was left behind after six false starts and never caught up with the other nine entries from seven countries. Garnir, the Moscow Derby winner, couldn't get closer than sixth.

Dr. Leon Levy of Philadelphia and two others contracted to buy Sailor's Guide after the International. A. C. Dibb and his son, Keith, gave him up for a reported $50,000.

It was part of $305,000 the Dibbs gleaned from a $1,750 investment. That was all they paid for Sailor's Guide six years ago in auction sales at Sydney. He brought them $184,923 while racing in Australia and the International first prize was $70,000.

Mrs. Herff had to settle for $15,000 second prize. Ballymoss picked up $10,000, and his Irish countrymate, Tharp, owned by Carlton Palmer of New York, won $5,000 for fourth.

OSU Grid Injury Data Is Detailed

CLEVELAND (AP)—In 10 years of Big Ten competition Ohio State University football teams suffered 2,000 injuries.

But, said Dr. Richard Patton of the OSU Medical School, only one in every three injuries during the years 1947 to 1957 resulted in a player being benched.

Dr. Patton spoke Tuesday before the medical assembly of the Interstate Post-graduate Medical Assn. of North America.

Medical records at Ohio State, he said, showed only one out of every 80 injuries required surgery. "We don't see more than one or two major fractures a year," he said and added:

"These usually can be repaired with good results."

Red Schoendienst Gets Tuberculosis Checkup

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Milwaukee Braves second baseman Red Schoendienst is in St. Johns Hospital here, undergoing a check for tuberculosis.

Dr. Ray Martin said "There is a distinct possibility that he has" the disease.

The veteran infielder, who lives in St. Louis, will remain in the hospital until tests are finished.

Rushaway was a most durable horse. In 1936 he won the Illinois Derby at Aurora and the next day won the Latonia Derby at Covington, Ky.

California's Golden Bears Leading in Race for Roses

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — It may become hopelessly muddled later, but at the moment the Pacific Coast Conference picture shows California clearly leading the race to the Rose Bowl.

The Bears, with a 4-1 mark, are the only PCC football squad having just one conference loss. Three other schools each have two defeats but they have an outside chance.

California is the favorite, despite the reluctance of Bear Coach Pete Elliott to accept the role. He's worried about this Saturday's contest with Washington.

Washington meets the Bears in Seattle, but California is favored. If Cal goes according to form and tops the Huskies, it looks as if the Bears will meet Iowa in Pasadena New Year's Day.

After Washington, Cal takes on Stanford in the season closer.

California's three challengers, Washington State, Oregon State and Southern California, have rough going to overtake the Bears.

WCS, with a 5-2 record, has one conference game left. The Cougars meet Washington neutral ground to end their PCC season. Should they win as expected and Cal lose one or both its closers, the Cougars will have a shot at the roses.

Oregon State, 4-2, must face Stanford at Palo Alto and Oregon at Oregon's home in Corvallis. State should be favored in both contests.

A Cal loss to either Washington or Stanford or both, combined with two Oregon State victories, would give the Beavers a chance.

Southern Cal has just one PCC game left, its traditional contest with cross-town UCLA. USC should be favored.

The Trojans will pack a 4-2 PCC mark into the UCLA game and one or two California losses plus an SC victory can give the Trojans a chance to see Pasadena.

Queen Mother's Selection Wins International Race

LAUREL, Md. (AP) — Queen Mother Elizabeth of England once waited nervously to find out if Sailor's Guide had won a horse race. The whole world was wondering Tuesday how she triumphed in the $100,000 Washington, D.C., International.

Both times there was a foul. And both times Sailor's Guide was on the right side of protests.

Earlier this year, at Melbourne's Flemington track, a foul was claimed against the first place finish of Sailor's Guide in the Queen Elizabeth Stakes. The Queen Mother reportedly had a $40 bet on the Sailor.

She cashed it when the foul was disallowed.

In the International, the circumstances were reversed. Tudor Era had a 3 1/2-length margin over

Sailor's Guide at the end of the mile and half grass race.

But the Sailor's jockey, Howard Grant, protested he had been bumped by Tudor Era, an English bred owned by Mrs. Herbert Herff of Memphis, Tenn.

There was a tense 20-minute delay while officials studied films of the first foul lodged in seven runnings of the International. They ruled in favor of Sailor's Guide.

The disqualification was the climactic turn in a series of twists in the race which holds a unique position in the turf sport.

The third place finish of Ballymoss was one of them. John McShain of Philadelphia had brought him over for one last race so fellow Americans could see the most highly prized horse out of Ireland in years.

Ballymoss had won his last four times in England and France and was valued at more than a million dollars. But he never was in contention in the International.

Russia's first two thoroughbreds ran, but not enough. In their first appearance outside the Iron Curtain, Zaryad was left behind after six false starts and never caught up with the other nine entries from seven countries. Garnir, the Moscow Derby winner, couldn't get closer than sixth.

Dr. Leon Levy of Philadelphia and two others contracted to buy Sailor's Guide after the International. A. C. Dibb and his son, Keith, gave him up for a reported $50,000.

It was part of $305,000 the Dibbs gleaned from a $1,750 investment. That was all they paid for Sailor's Guide six years ago in auction sales at Sydney. He brought them $184,923 while racing in Australia and the International first prize was $70,000.

Mrs. Herff had to settle for $15,000 second prize. Ballymoss picked up $10,000, and his Irish countrymate, Tharp, owned by Carlton Palmer of New York, won $5,000 for fourth.

OSU Grid Injury Data Is Detailed

CLEVELAND (AP)—In 10 years of Big Ten competition Ohio State University football teams suffered 2,000 injuries.

But, said Dr. Richard Patton of the OSU Medical School, only one in every three injuries during the years 1947 to 1957 resulted in a player being benched.

Dr. Patton spoke Tuesday before the medical assembly of the Interstate Post-graduate Medical Assn. of North America.

Medical records at Ohio State, he said, showed only one out of every 80 injuries required surgery.

"We don't see more than one or two major fractures a year," he said and added:

"These usually can be repaired with good results."

Red Schoendienst Gets Tuberculosis Checkup

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Milwaukee Braves second baseman Red Schoendienst is in St. Johns Hospital here, undergoing a check for tuberculosis.

Dr. Ray Martin said "There is a distinct possibility that he has" the disease.

The veteran infielder, who lives in St. Louis, will remain in the hospital until tests are finished.

Rushaway was a most durable horse. In 1936 he won the Illinois Derby at Aurora and the next day won the Latonia Derby at Covington, Ky.

'59 Line Cars Nearly All Out To Dealers Now

Studebaker's 'Lark' May Tell Future of Smaller U.S. Autos

DETROIT (AP)—The auto industry will have all its regular 1959 line cars on the market this week. Studebaker-Packard presents its smaller Lark series on Friday.

Still to come is an addition to the Ford line—the Galaxie. It is scheduled for dealer introduction early next month.

Public reaction to the Lark series will get industrywide attention. Studebaker-Packard's hopes of remaining in the automobile business will ride in the Lark. To a significant degree the Lark, in several body styles and with six or eight cylinder engines, will disclose how great is the demand for smaller, more economical automobiles.

So far the growing demand for smaller, lower priced cars has been met by imported vehicles and American Motors. With its Rambler series American Motors has been the only car maker to build and sell more cars this year than it did in 1957.

The Galaxie will be the top priced car in the Ford division line. Its price has not been disclosed, but many industry analysts regard it as designed to compete with Chevrolet's Impala series.

Expanded for 1959 to include a four-door sedan and a four-door hardtop, the Impala series carries suggested factory list prices ranging from $2,592 for the 6-cylinder four-door sedan to $2,967 for the V-8 convertible. The Galaxie borrows much of its styling from the Ford Thunderbird and the Continental Mark IV.

The Thunderbird introduced, initially as a single-seat, two-passenger car was redesigned to seat four passengers. It has been one of the hottest cars in the Ford line. Ford built 42,233 Thunderbirds in the first 10 months of 1958 against 14,010 in the similar 1957 period.

Studebaker-Packard has not had so much of the industry spotlight in many years. Concentrating mainly on the smaller Lark series, it has discontinued the Packard line and other models in the larger car series. The Silver Hawk series is being continued for 1959. S-P is continuing to import the Mercedes-Benz models.

The Lark brought favorable comment from industry chroniclers who drove various models in the S-P national press preview a few weeks ago.

Some experts say its reception may determine whether General Motors, Ford and Chrysler will bring out their planned smaller vehicles earlier than scheduled next year. Many believe the small car market still is far from its peak.

This is the view taken by Harold E. Churchill, Studebaker-Packard president. Those who share his view say the demand for the smaller cars is broad enough for both American Motors and Studebaker-Packard. They are not equally certain it is big enough for those two companies plus General Motors, Ford and Chrysler.

Reds Develop Rocket Glider, Scientist Says

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—The Soviet Union is developing an intercontinental rocket glider with range up to 12,500 miles, a space scientist said today.

Dr. Everett T. Wellmers of Bell Aircraft Corp. said the Soviet unmanned three-stage test vehicle is designed to reach the heart of the United States.

Such a glider also would be capable of landing on Mars or Venus, he added, but would not be useful on the Moon, because the moon has no air.

The United States also is working on such a glider. The Air Force last June awarded contracts for the Dyna-Soar, a system of vehicles exploiting this principle at hypersonic speeds.

Another space scientist argued that this country does not need such a machine in its defense arsenal. Dr. Vernher von Braun, director of development for the Army Ballistic Missile Agency, told reporters rocket gliders are important for short-range defense, but other weapons are necessary to counter an intercontinental ballistic missile.

Irvin Quick, OU Campus Figure, Dies at 64

ATHENS, Ohio (AP)—A familiar figure around the Ohio University campus here is dead.

Irvin D. Quick, 64, who operated for the last 29 years a drug store a half-block from the campus, died Monday night in Shelling Arms Hospital here. The store has been a favorite hangout for students.

Quick, a native of Caldwell, was a past lieutenant governor of the state Kiwanis organization.

before the Dec. 31 deadline. There is 10 million more available if it should be needed.

What concerns officials is the prospect that many veterans entitled to bonuses will wait until it's too late to file. Applications postmarked 12:01 a.m. next Jan. 1 cannot be considered, Bonus Director C. W. Goble warns.

Goble is prepared for a last minute rush despite the usual holiday mailing difficulties. But it looks as though early estimates of 250,000 bonus seekers might be high. So far 231,700 claims have been received and about 220,000 of them paid. Only 1,830 claims were rejected. The rest are being processed.

But claims from veterans or next of kin have dwindled to about 250 a week. Unless a sharp increase develops, another half-million dollars will about take care of late filers.

Total bonus payments since the first checks went out June 1 exceeded $7½ million dollars. They average $258 for veterans and $341 for next of kin. The maximum is $400.

Payments are $10 for each month of domestic service and $15 for each month of foreign service between June 25, 1950, and July 19, 1953.

Bonuses come from the Korean Conflict Compensation Fund created through sale of 60 million dollars worth of bonds from an authorized 90 million approved by voters two years ago. An extra levy on real estate will retire the bonds.

A 25-million-dollar bond issue financed World War I bonus payments. World War II bonus payments approximated 231½ million dollars.

11 Bodies Recovered

MONTREAL (AP)—The bodies of eight men and five women have been recovered so far from the ruins of a mid-town apartment block destroyed in a weekend blaze. The fire is believed to have claimed at least 18 lives.

No Nagging Backache Means a Good Night's Sleep

Nagging backache, headache, or muscular aches and pains may come on with over-exercising, emotional upsets or day to day stress and strain. And folks who eat and drink unwisely sometimes suffer mild bladder irritation... with that restless, uncomfortable feeling.

If you are miserable and worn out because of these discomforts, Doan's Pills often help by their pain relieving action, by their soothing effect to ease bladder irritation, and by their mild diuretic action through the kidneys—tending to increase the output of the 15 miles of kidney tubes.

So if nagging backache makes you feel dragged-out, miserable, with restless, sleepless nights, don't wait, try Doan's Pills, get the same happy relief millions have enjoyed for over 60 years. Ask for new, large, economy size and save money. Get Doan's Pills today!

Two Area Men Hurt in Crash

Two Circleville area men were slightly injured in a two-car crash Sunday in Fayette County.

Curtis Smith, driver of the local car, and Howard Mettler, both of Route 4, received head lacerations. They were treated at Fayette Memorial Hospital and released.

Mrs. Lillian M. Ford, 38, Columbus, driver of the other auto, was not injured.

Fayette County Sheriff's Deputy said Smith's auto smashed into the rear of the Ford car which was attempting to make a turn.

WHAT DOCTORS SAY ABOUT

- Cold Formulas
- Eye Circles
- Moles

Q. "Will cold milk hurt my baby? I gave him an ice-cold formula the other night and he now prefers all his bottles right out of the refrigerator."

—A reader.

A. Faced with this question, a Texas doctor decided to find out whether warming formulas is a necessity or a tradition. The doctor asked 150 mothers to gradually switch from warm to cold bottles. Within one week, 134 babies accepted unheated formulas. The others did better on warmed bottles. There was no evidence that the cold formulas affected the youngsters' development. This, of course, is one doctor's findings. Whether it will or should become a general practice is another question.

Q. "What causes dark circles under the eyes? They are especially noticeable when I am tired."

—No name.

A. The cause of dark circles under the eyes when fatigued is not known. The condition occurs in some people whether they're tired or not. In such cases it's probably a family trait.

Q. "I have moles all over my body. Is there a chemical I can use to remove them?"

—A Kansas reader.

A. One of the worst things you can do is try self-removal of moles. What looks like a mole to you may prove to be a very serious skin lesion. If a mole itches, gets darker, enlarges, or is located in a place where it is often irritated by clothing or during shaving, see a doctor. Under no circumstances should you tamper with a mole.

'59 Line Cars Nearly All Out To Dealers Now

Studebaker's 'Lark' May Tell Future of Smaller U.S. Autos

DETROIT (AP)—The auto industry will have all its regular 1959 line cars on the market this week. Studebaker-Packard presents its smaller Lark series on Friday.

Still to come is an addition to the Ford line—the Galaxie. It is scheduled for dealer introduction early next month.

Public reaction to the Lark series will get industrywide attention. Studebaker-Packard's hopes of remaining in the automobile business will ride in the Lark. To a significant degree the Lark, in several body styles and with six or eight cylinder engines, will disclose how great is the demand for smaller, more economical automobiles.

So far the growing demand for smaller, lower priced cars has been met by imported vehicles and American Motors. With its Rambler series American Motors has been the only car maker to build and sell more cars this year than it did in 1957.

The Galaxie will be the top priced car in the Ford division line. Its price has not been disclosed, but many industry analysts regard it as designed to compete with Chevrolet's Impala series.

Expanded for 1959 to include a four-door sedan and a four-door hardtop, the Impala series carries suggested factory list prices ranging from $2,592 for the 6-cylinder four-door sedan to $2,967 for the V-8 convertible. The Galaxie borrows much of its styling from the Ford Thunderbird and the Continental Mark IV.

The Thunderbird introduced, initially as a single-seat, two-passenger car was redesigned to seat four passengers. It has been one of the hottest cars in the Ford line. Ford built 42,233 Thunderbirds in the first 10 months of 1958 against 14,010 in the similar 1957 period.

Studebaker-Packard has not had so much of the industry spotlight in many years. Concentrating mainly on the smaller Lark series, it has discontinued the Packard line and other models in the larger car series. The Silver Hawk series is being continued for 1959. S-P is continuing to import the Mercedes-Benz models.

The Lark brought favorable comment from industry chroniclers who drove various models in the S-P national press preview a few weeks ago.

Some experts say its reception may determine whether General Motors, Ford and Chrysler will bring out their planned smaller vehicles earlier than scheduled next year. Many believe the small car market still is far from its peak.

This is the view taken by Harold E. Churchill, Studebaker-Packard president. Those who share his view say the demand for the smaller cars is broad enough for both American Motors and Studebaker-Packard. They are not equally certain it is big enough for those two companies plus General Motors, Ford and Chrysler.

Carroll County Gets 25-Year Old Sheriff

CARROLLTON, Ohio (AP)—The Carroll County commissioners have appointed Dean Yeager, 25, former Carrollton patrolman, to finish the unexpired term of Sheriff Richard Beamer. Beamer resigned recently to become superintendent of Fairmount Children's Home near Alliance. The term runs until January, 1961.

Reds Develop Rocket Glider, Scientist Says

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—The Soviet Union is developing an intercontinental rocket glider with range up to 12,500 miles, a space scientist said today.

Dr. Everett T. Wellmers of Bell Aircraft Corp. said the Soviet unmanned three-stage test vehicle is designed to reach the heart of the United States.

Such a glider also would be capable of landing on Mars or Venus, he added, but would not be useful on the Moon, because the moon has no air.

The United States also is working on such a glider. The Air Force last June awarded contracts for the Dyna-Soar, a system of vehicles exploiting this principle at hypersonic speeds.

Another space scientist argued that this country does not need such a machine in its defense arsenal. Dr. Vernher von Braun, director of development for the Army Ballistic Missile Agency, told reporters rocket gliders are important for short-range defense, but other weapons are necessary to counter an intercontinental ballistic missile.

Irvin Quick, OU Campus Figure, Dies at 64

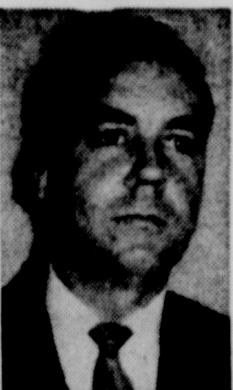

ATHENS, Ohio (AP)—A familiar figure around the Ohio University campus here is dead.

Irvin D. Quick, 64, who operated for the last 29 years a drug store a half-block from the campus, died Monday night in Shelling Arms Hospital here. The store has been a favorite hangout for students. Quick, a native of Caldwell, was a past lieutenant governor of the state Kiwanis organization.
